State Of Emergency Proclaimed

British Troops Converge On Riot-Torn Guiana City

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—A state of emergency was proclaimed in British Guiana today after a bloody day of riots and looting in which at least six persons were killed and an estimated 20 million West Indian dollars in goods and property destroyed.

Fires are still smouldering in many parts of the city and the situation's tense but quiet.

British troops converged on the blazing capital by truck, frigate and plane to man power stations and other key installations as well as to guard the homes of leftist Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan and his ministers, who striking city workers are demanding should resign.

The strike, which began five days ago to protest Jagan's austerity budget proposals and his leftist actions, is continuing but the Trades Union Council has scheduled an emergency meeting to consider a plan to end it.

In a wave of arson and looting Friday night, hundreds roamed the street in a staggering orgy of plunder. At least three persons were shot dead by troops who had orders to shoot on sight.

At least 30 persons have been arrested.

Rioting began early Friday afternoon after local riot squads used tear gas on a mob besieging the power station.

By midnight 24 buildings were ablaze, with fire fighters waging a losing battle since the strike had curtailed the city's water supply.

Troops, assisted by seamen from the British frigates Troubridge and Wizard, joined the battle, and by dawn had the situation in hand.

Among buildings hit by fire were the head office of Bookers United Kingdom Co., with many stores and sugar estates, and stores owned by D. A. Thani and Kirpalani, merchants from India.

Gov. Sir Ralph Grey and Jagan appealed to citizens to keep off the streets and stay in their homes. But thousands fled the city all night to seek the safety of suburban areas, away from the battle zone.

The bloodshed seemed certain to set back Jagan's drive for quick independence for British Guiana, Britain's only South American colony, and his hopes for U.S. Alliance for Progress funds.

The British governor, Sir Walter Grey, broadcast repeated appeals for order and declared the violence had deferred all plans for British Guiana for years. Presumably he meant independence.

The strikers have protested that if Jagan gets his demand for swift independence he will turn British Guiana into another Cuba.

The uprising was touched off by Jagan's austerity program and its unpopular compulsory savings plan and freeze on vacations. But the strikers have vowed to continue their walkout until Jagan quits altogether.

Opposition to Jagan reached a climax this week with a general strike that paralyzed Georgetown. Friday it broke out into pitched battles in the streets. Demonstrators roamed the streets setting fire to stores and vehicles, looting and clashing again and again with police.

Riot squads opened fire on the rampaging mobs after failing to stop them with tear gas grenades. The rioters returned the fire.

At least three persons were reported killed and scores wounded in the early fighting.

An estimated 30 of the city's largest buildings were set ablaze. Harassed by the rioters and hindered by inadequate water supplies, firemen were unable to cope with huge fires that raged on into the night.

Opposition leaders Forbes Burnham and Peter d'Aguiar, defeated by Jagan in last September's elections, defied a government ban on demonstrations and led 20,000 strikers in a march on the parliament buildings. The mob broke through police cordons.

Jagan, who was ousted by the British in 1953 for being pro-Communist, appealed to the British for help.

Ships In Distress; 17 Reported Dead; Damage In Millions

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Howling winter winds, raging seas and floods clobbered northern Europe in one of its worst storms of the century today.

In Britain at least 11 persons perished and in Germany six were known dead with others feared drowned as the North sea smashed through coastal dikes.

Thousands fled their homes in the port cities of Hamburg and Bremerhaven in Germany and thousands more were reported fleeing from the lowlands. Many were believed caught asleep in their beds by gushing flood waters.

High winds pounded the Baltic Coast of Communist East Germany, causing considerable damage, the official news agency ADN reported.

A spokesman for the Hamburg city government said between 20,000 and 40,000 person were homeless.

Two villages on the upper Elbe River near the East German border were cut off when two dikes burst. West German army helicopters flew to evacuate the villagers.

U.S. Army soldiers in Bremerhaven, a U.S. Army embarkation port, worked with Germans sandbagging dike breaches. Civilian telephone communications to Bremerhaven were cut.

In Britain, 100-mile-an-hour gales hit Sheffield, causing $5.6-million damage there alone.

On the seas, ships were reported in trouble.

A Danish schooner was reported in distress off the island of Ruegen. The East German news agency said the crew of the U.S. Officials Say Viet War Will Be Won

See Minimum Loss Of Yank Lives; To Extend Duty Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials say the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam will be won with a minimum amount of combat and loss of life by Americans.

As this official optimism was being expressed here, there was a report in Saigon the United States is going to triple the length of service of some of its Army men in Viet Nam.

About three-fourths of the estimated 4,000 U. S. servicemen there are assigned to a temporary six-months tour of duty, but an informant said this was being extended to a permanent 18-month tour for some key personnel, such as helicopter pilots.

The Saigon dispatch said official information on the extension was classified, presumably to avoid calling more attention to the U. S. military buildup. It is aimed at keeping the Southeast Asian country from falling to Communist guerrillas and infiltrators slipping across the border from North Viet Nam.

The situation will take Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on another flying trip to Hawaii this weekend for a conference with top officers and diplomats from the Red-pressed country.

He will leave Sunday, accompanied by Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Assistant Secretary of Defense Paul A. Nitze, and Averell Harriman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, newly appointed U. S. military commander in Viet Nam, arrived in Honolulu Friday to prepare for the talks.

It will be the third such Viet Nam conference for McNamara in two months.

$100,000 Fire Razes New Brighton Store

NEW BRIGHTON — The Capo Furniture Store, in the main business district, was destroyed by fire Friday night and the loss was set at $100,000 by Anthony Capo, owner.

Nine fire companies fought the blaze, including four from New Brighton, three from Beaver Falls and one each from Daugherty and Pulaski Townships. Possibly 100 firemen were at the scene along with thousands of spectators.

The fire began about 9:05 p. m. only a few minutes after the owner had left. It was discovered by William Isaacson, owner of a nearby furniture store.

The cause has not been determined.

Solicitors Air Talks In Area Gas Rate Hike

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper of East Liverpool and Solicitor William L. Bush of Wellsville represented their communities Friday at Steubenville at a meeting of legal advisors of eight district cities to discuss the status of negotiations on a gas rate increase request between the individual communities and the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

The question of the rate increase has been pending since mid-1961, when the utility filed proposals with each city. The negotiations since then have been held with the individual City Councils.

A series of meetings was held between East Liverpool's Council and Ohio Valley officials in the summer and fall of last year, but ended inconclusively. No action has been taken by either side for several months.

Cooper said the solicitors of the riverfront communities have not taken any definite action to join together for a united protest against the rate proposal before the Public Utilities Commission at Columbus.

On at least two previous occasions, the cities chipped in money to a common pool, with contributions based on population, and hired rate experts to help present their case before the PUCO.

Yesterday's session amounted to a progress report on the negotiations between the various communities and the utility. It began with lunch at the Ft. Steuben Hotel and adjourned to the Jefferson County prosecutor's office for a business session. No date was set for a future meeting.

Other communities represented were Bellaire, Martins Ferry, Tiltonsville, Yorkville, Steubenville and Toronto.

Inquiry Forms Ask 350 Specialists 3 Broad Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has opened a broad study of the New York Stock Exchange with a 16-page questionnaire for the exchange's 350 stock specialists.

In the inquiry forms, distributed Friday, the Securities and Exchange Commission is seeking answers to three broad questions:

—How do specialists handle trading in more than 100 selected stocks that represent a cross section of Big Board securities?

—Do some specialists have conflicts of interest that might compromise their position as servants of the investing public?

—Are certain large investors, such as the mutual funds, given favored treatment when they buy and sell on the Big Board?

SEC officials said they had no preconceived ideas regarding any of the matters dealt with in the questionnaire. They said they were simply trying to find out how the specialists, the market technicians who conduct the daily stock options, actually operate.

In New York, Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, commented, "The exchange's members and member organizations will naturally cooperate to the fullest extent in this and all other phases of the Securities and Exchange Commission's study."

The SEC recently completed an investigation of the American Stock Exchange. The agency issued a public report last month that was particularly critical of American Exchange specialists.

At the direction of Congress, the SEC is conducting a year-long study of all phases of the securities industry, including the operations of the 14 registered stock exchanges.

Big Board specialists were instructed to report on detail on many of their activities since Jan. 1, 1959. They were given until March 26 to supply the answers.

Light Snow Expected Tonight And Sunday

The district may again resemble a Winter Wonderland over the weekend.

Motorists may grumble but occasional light snow is expected tonight and Sunday, covering the remnants of the fall of one to 2 inches of Friday.

Colder weather was due today with snow flurries and a temperature high of 27 to 33. It won't have far to go as the downtown had 31 at 6 a. m. Tonight's low will be a sub-freezing 22 to 27.

Army Doctor Kills Wife, 4 Children, Self

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—An Army doctor's wife and their four young sons were found shot to death Friday in their home here. Several hours later the doctor's body—a bullet wound in his head—was found in a Washington, D. C., hotel room.

Police said the wife and children apparently had been dead since Wednesday, Valentine's Day.

The doctor, Capt. Vincent J. Madison, 33, lay across a daybed, a 22-caliber pistol in his hand. Police said it was the same caliber weapon used to slay Mrs. Madison and the children.

The victims were Sally Carter Madison, 33, and her sons, Vincent Jr., 8; Mark, 7; Brian, 5, and Hugh, 2. Their bodies were on beds, fully clothed. They were found by sheriff's deputies who were asked to investigate when Madison failed to report for duty Friday at the hospital at Ft. Jackson.

The doctor was described as quiet and personable, and by a neighbor as hard to know.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Jimmy Harrison said notes found in the Madison home indicated Madison shot his wife and sons. The content of the notes was not made public, although police said one read: "I will not be far away."

No notes were found in the hotel room where Madison's body was discovered. He had checked into the hotel at 7:30 a.m. Thursday and had not been seen since.

There were no North Americans among the new princes of the church.

The Pope called a Consistory for March 19 to present the new cardinals their red hats.

The new cardinals included three Italians, two South Americans, one Irishman, one Spaniard, one Portuguese and one Belgian and one Syrian.

The new cardinals are:

Juan Landazuri Ricketts, archbishop of Lima, Peru; Raul Silva Henriquez, archbishop of Santiago, Chile; Leo Jozef Suenens, archbishop of Malines-Brussels; Father Michael Browne, Irish, superior of the Dominican Order; Msgr. The Consistory will be the fifth that Pope John has held for creation of cardinals since he became pontiff on Oct. 28, 1958.

He named his first cardinals only a few days after his election, creating 23 of them on Dec. 15, 1958, to bolster the college for its increasing work in administering the church.

That Consistory brought the college's membership to 74, breaking for the first time the limit of 70 set by Pope Sixtus V in 1586. At that time the total population of the world was about 360-million people.

Man At Toronto Is Shot To Death

Sam Calhoun, 54, a resident of Croxton Run Rd., just off Route 7 at the northern city limits of Toronto, was shot to death shortly before noon at his home.

The Jefferson County sheriff's office said a suspect was being questioned.

The sheriff, prosecutor, coroner and other county officials were at the scene and the Clarke Funeral Home of Toronto was sent to the house for the body.

There was no immediate identification of the suspect.

The neighborhood consists of a number of homes of workers in sewer pipe plants and clay mines in the vicinity.

The motive was not known. The sheriff's office was notified of the slaying about 11:10 a.m.

The suspect apparently was arrested at the scene as none of the area police departments was asked to set up roadblocks.

Detailed Report By Goodballet Shows Increase Of $9,834

Total collections stand at $132,948.21 under the city income tax ordinance that died Nov. 15, or an increase of $9,834 since Dec. 31, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said today after obtaining a detailed statement on revenues and expenditures.

The last full report on the tax showed revenue of $123,114.84 through Dec. 31.

The tax of five - tenths of one per cent — equivalent to 50 cents on each $100 of earnings and other income — was repealed at the November general election. It died officially after the result of the vote was certified by the County Election Board.

But a little more revenue still is expected from the tax, as the deadline for final returns does not fall until April 15. The final reports must be filed by business and industrial concerns and individuals whose income was not subject to withholding at the source — a total of over 4,000.

About 35 per cent of the final returns already have been filed, according to a tax office estimate. But a large percentage of them do not mean additional revenue for the city. In the final accounting, the individual taxpayers list their actual income for the period covered by the tax, then show what amounts they paid previously, based on advance estimates of income.

If the actual income was under the estimate on which taxes previously were paid, the city must issue a refund. Council previously appropriated $1,000 to pay refunds.

In recent days, the amount paid the city in the form of taxes due has been almost totally offset by refunds.

For that reason, no accurate estimate is available on the total net revenue the city can expect

The Consistory will be the fifth that Pope John has held for creation of cardinals since he became pontiff on Oct. 28, 1958.

He named his first cardinals only a few days after his election, creating 23 of them on Dec. 15, 1958, to bolster the college for its increasing work in administering the church.

That Consistory brought the college's membership to 74, breaking for the first time the limit of 70 set by Pope Sixtus V in 1586. At that time the total population of the world was about 360-million people.

Man At Toronto Is Shot To Death

Sam Calhoun, 54, a resident of Croxton Run Rd., just off Route 7 at the northern city limits of Toronto, was shot to death shortly before noon at his home.

'Late' Income Tax Revenues Hit $132,948

Total collections stand at $132,948.21 under the city income tax ordinance that died Nov. 15, or an increase of $9,834 since Dec. 31, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said today after obtaining a detailed statement on revenues and expenditures.

The last full report on the tax showed revenue of $123,114.84 through Dec. 31.

The tax of five - tenths of one per cent — equivalent to 50 cents on each $100 of earnings and other income — was repealed at the November general election. It died officially after the result of the vote was certified by the County Election Board.

But a little more revenue still is expected from the tax, as the deadline for final returns does not fall until April 15. The final reports must be filed by business and industrial concerns and individuals whose income was not subject to withholding at the source — a total of over 4,000.

About 35 per cent of the final returns already have been filed, according to a tax office estimate. But a large percentage of them do not mean additional revenue for the city. In the final accounting, the individual taxpayers list their actual income for the period covered by the tax, then show what amounts they paid previously, based on advance estimates of income.

If the actual income was under the estimate on which taxes previously were paid, the city must issue a refund. Council previously appropriated $1,000 to pay refunds.

In recent days, the amount paid the city in the form of taxes due has been almost totally offset by refunds.

For that reason, no accurate estimate is available on the total net revenue the city can expect

He will observe his 100th birthday anniversary at his winter home in St. Petersburg, surrounded by a crowd of friends and his only surviving close relative, a son — Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. of McKinnon Ave.

Preparations already are under way for the birthday observance. His son expects to leave March 13 or 14 to attend the party. The elder Sample, with a spryness and an alert mind that belie his years, is looking forward to the anniversary.

He keeps up with East Liverpool happenings by reading The Review, but has not been back to his "old home town" since the summer of 1960. He planned a trip in the summer of 1961, but a physician advised against it because of the chilly, damp weather in East Liverpool at that time.

When Councilman Sample goes to Florida, he will take along a plaque from the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, of which his father is a life-time elder. It will be presented in a ceremony at a St. Petersburg church.

Sample was born March 15, 1862, at Samples Mills in Hampton Township, Allegheny County, a son of Robert and Elizabeth Wallace Sample. His father was known as "Robert Sample, the miller" because he operated a flour and sawmill.

When his father died in November 1876, the family disposed of the farm and mill and moved to North Side Pittsburgh. Sample worked in a shoe store as a boy employe and later as a clerk.

He spent five years with the Verner Shoe Co. at Pittsburgh, managing the men's department. He was sent from there in 1894 to take charge of a shoe store at Wellsville, which was in the hands of creditors.

Early in 1895, he purchased the store, operating it for about two and a half years. He moved to East Liverpool in 1897, the year McKinley was elected president, as he recalls.

He operated an East Liverpool shoe business for 33 years, retiring in 1930.

On Sept. 28, 1894, he was married to the former Miss Sara Dickey of East Liverpool. Mrs. Sample died Sept. 22, 1947. A son died in February 1921 when he was 4.

Sample's brother, W. J. Sample, was associated with the Grogan Jewelry Co. at Pittsburgh until he died a few years ago.

State Ruling Hits Detention Space In County Jails

LISBON — Columbiana County officials, already plagued by limited finances under the 1962 budget, today were contemplating the import of an opinion by Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy that juvenile detention facilities should be spearate from county jails.

In answer to a question from Prosecutor John Peterson of Greene County, the attorney general said, "A juvenile detention home may not be properly established in a county jail, even if it is put on a separate floor of the jail."

McElroy said that a juvenile detention home should be separate and apart from buildings in which adult persons are confined.

Whether the opinion applied only to planned new juvenile detention facilities and what effect it would have on present accommodations at the County Jail at Lisbon — where juveniles are detained in a section of the jail — is uncertain.

But it was indicated by officials at Lisbon that juveniles will continue to be detained at the jail until some other policy is adopted.

One official said, "We certainly aren't going out to beat the bushes for money for a new juvenile detention home at this stage."

First Step Announced

Mayor At Wellsville Acts To Bolster Refuse Funds

Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville said today the first step has been taken in a plan to bring the city refuse department out of the red and make it a paying proposition.

Master sheets of all those subscribing to the collection service have been made up by Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare. These have been given to the truck drivers who were directed to follow them in their collections.

The mayor said the program is designed to halt collection of refuse at residences and business places who are not paying for the service.

The plan was put into effect the first of the week and has caused some delay in the regular collections. It will require another two or three weeks to work out due to discripencies in addresses, the mayor said.

The mayor pointed out that some residents have their refuse collected even though they do not pay for the service as the driver has no way of knowing who has or hasn't signed.

Perhaps some have signed for one or two quarters and then dropped the service without the driver knowing.

The master sheets will be changed each quarter when the bills are made out. This will cut out anyone who drops the service and all non-subscribers, he said.

The mayor said the department was $7,362.47 in the red at the end of 1961.

He said anyone who is a paid-up subscriber and whose refuse is not picked up should immediately notify the director or himself so the records can be checked and corrected.

He said he has had a few calls, but most of the residents have been co-operating.

The mayor announced previously other proposals are being considered for the department, such as regulations governing outsiders dumping at the city dump off Route 39.

Mrs. Chapman, retiring president, presided for business and awarded admission tickets to Beaver County Federation's Spring Fine Arts Festival to 10 members.

Mrs. Peck, festival chairman, announced a new date, time and place for the event as March 9 at 6 p.m. in the new Rochester Junior Senior High School. Some 14 members plan to participate by submitting craft articles, baked goods and the club's press book for display. Articles will be collected by Mrs. Peck before the festival.

Mrs. William Stiblo of Ohio View was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Charles Smith of Industry was a guest.

Bills Awaited In Repair Job At Reservoir

Two pieces of legislation authorizing the Board of Public Utilities to proceed with an $8,000 repair job on the walls of the Thompson Ave. reservoir are scheduled for presentation to Council at its meeting Monday night at 8.

Council will act on a resolution clearing the way for the board to advertise for 200 tons of ready-mix sand and cement mixture for use in repairing the walls, along with an appropriation measure providing $8,000 to cover the cost of the materials and other items in connection with the job.

The utilities board requested the action in letters to Council Feb. 5, pointing out a leak had been discovered in a wall of the smaller of two basins at the Thompson Ave. reservoir.

A metal reinforcing material is placed against the section to be repaired, then it is covered with the sand and cement mixture, applied under pressure from a "gun" purchased several years ago by the water department. A similar method was used to repair the walls of the Huston Hill reservoir.

Council also will consider legislation authorizing payment of a $31.50 claim against the city for auto damage. It was filed by Guy L. Danser of Wellsville R. D.

Council will meet in a caucus session at 7 p. m. with Pennsylvania Railroad Co. officials from Pittsburgh to discuss protection for East Liverpool crossings, particularly the one at Walnut St. and the River Rd.

The railroad officials, conferring with the 1960-61 Council, presented a plan for automatic gates and blinker lights at the Walnut St. crossing, but asked the city to share in the cost. The city's share was estimated at about $17,000.

There may be a discussion of Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's request, filed at a caucus session last Monday, for re-enactment of a city income tax. However, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper said he has received no instructions to draft a new tax ordinance.

First Step Announced

Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville said today the first step has been taken in a plan to bring the city refuse department out of the red and make it a paying proposition.

Master sheets of all those subscribing to the collection service have been made up by Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare. These have been given to the truck drivers who were directed to follow them in their collections.

The mayor said the program is designed to halt collection of refuse at residences and business places who are not paying for the service.

The plan was put into effect the first of the week and has caused some delay in the regular collections. It will require another two or three weeks to work out due to discripencies in addresses, the mayor said.

The mayor pointed out that some residents have their refuse collected even though they do not pay for the service as the driver has no way of knowing who has or hasn't signed.

Perhaps some have signed for one or two quarters and then dropped the service without the driver knowing.

The master sheets will be changed each quarter when the bills are made out. This will cut out anyone who drops the service and all non-subscribers, he said.

The mayor said the department was $7,362.47 in the red at the end of 1961.

He said anyone who is a paid-up subscriber and whose refuse is not picked up should immediately notify the director or himself so the records can be checked and corrected.

He said he has had a few calls, but most of the residents have been co-operating.

The mayor announced previously other proposals are being considered for the department, such as regulations governing outsiders dumping at the city dump off Route 39.

Some 14 members plan to participate by submitting craft articles, baked goods and the club's press book for display. Articles will be collected by Mrs. Peck before the festival.

Mrs. William Stiblo of Ohio View was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Charles Smith of Industry was a guest.

Bills Awaited In Repair Job At Reservoir

Two pieces of legislation authorizing the Board of Public Utilities to proceed with an $8,000 repair job on the walls of the Thompson Ave. reservoir are scheduled for presentation to Council at its meeting Monday night at 8.

Council will act on a resolution clearing the way for the board to advertise for 200 tons of ready-mix sand and cement mixture for use in repairing the walls, along with an appropriation measure providing $8,000 to cover the cost of the materials and other items in connection with the job.

The utilities board requested the action in letters to Council Feb. 5, pointing out a leak had been discovered in a wall of the smaller of two basins at the Thompson Ave. reservoir.

A metal reinforcing material is placed against the section to be repaired, then it is covered with the sand and cement mixture, applied under pressure from a "gun" purchased several years ago by the water department. A similar method was used to repair the walls of the Huston Hill reservoir.

Council also will consider legislation authorizing payment of a $31.50 claim against the city for auto damage. It was filed by Guy L. Danser of Wellsville R. D.

Council will meet in a caucus session at 7 p. m. with Pennsylvania Railroad Co. officials from Pittsburgh to discuss protection for East Liverpool crossings, particularly the one at Walnut St. and the River Rd.

The railroad officials, conferring with the 1960-61 Council, presented a plan for automatic gates and blinker lights at the Walnut St. crossing, but asked the city to share in the cost. The city's share was estimated at about $17,000.

There may be a discussion of Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's request, filed at a caucus session last Monday, for re-enactment of a city income tax. However, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper said he has received no instructions to draft a new tax ordinance.

They're Better Boys Now

Former President Eisenhower's second letter to the Senate subcommittee that looked into military "muzzling" seems to be an attempt to ease a policy the former five-star general enforced when he was in the White House.

Because censorship of speeches of top-level officials is belittling, he says, it should be dispensed with. Top-level officials should be put on their own. Then if they fail to live up to their obligation to guard their tongues, they should be dealt with by means "other than censorship." He does not say what the means would be.

Most of us had assumed that top-level officials would be cagey enough to guard their tongues without censorship, yet their speeches were subject to review under the Eisenhower administration. Even then so much loose-talking was done that the incoming Kennedy administration declared it would tighten up the setup because of embarrassing incidents that had happened when top-level officials talked out of turn.

It would seem to be true, therefore, that even under a censorship system some top-level officials will step out of line. There is no prospect that censorship of their speeches will be waived to spare their feelings about having speeches written for them by ghost-writers edited before delivery.

But in the meantime the Senate investigation undoubtedly has had a good effect on the dozen-odd men doing the pentagon's blue-penciling. It has made them acutely aware of the embarrassment always caused when a blue pencil job is reviewed later with a critical eye. The decisions had better have been sound.

A blue pencil is an instrument of temptation. With it, a mere human being can feel as if he had the wisdom of eternity and the power of 10,000 panthers. This calls for a strong sense of inner restraint.

One blue penicl will get you 50 erasers that the blue-pencil squad in the Pentagon is doing more intelligent editing right now than it ever did before — the automatic consequense of being asked to justify changes for which there may have been no justification but whim.

Token Integration For Clubmen

The mayor of New York said the other day he was looking over his club memberships with a view to taking "appropriate action" if he finds evidence of discrimination.

When it was revealed that Mr. Wagner belongs to 36 clubs the job began to look formidable. The fact was pointed out immediately that at least one organization has a discrimination policy against Negroes in its constitution and that the mayor never had been bothered about this until recently, though he has been a high officer of the organization and presumably has read the constitution.

Club discrimination has become an occupational hazard among Democrats since they began to hit front pages with well-publicized resignations from clubs in Washington. All over the country Democrats who never had been concerned about discrimination before are making a big thing of their lack of discrimination now in the hope of improving their party image.

It is a ticklish situation. The only way the image improvers could do the job right would be to stay in the clubs and prove the point there, instead of running away from something that never bothered them before.

They might have to resort in a showdown to the practice of token integration, which has been their inspired formula for handling the problem in southerin school systems. This would mean that every club which has no Negro members would admit at least one Negro to membership so its officers could say they are not practicing discrimination.

Meanwhile, to keep the scales in balance, Negro organizations that do not have white members could be doing the same thing—one white member apiece to prove the tolerance of the members. Unless something like this can be worked out, Democratic politicians like the Hon. Robert F. Wagner, Jr., won't have any club memberships to list in "Who's Who" at all. They will be the forgotten men of club society.

When We Visited The White House

Never were television cameras and audio gear used to better advantage than in the nation's visit to the White House Wednesday night, with Mrs. John F. Kennedy conducting the tour.

All day Thursday the excellent impression mady by the young First Lady's explanations of her project of bringing to the White House everything that can be found with a direct historic connection was being talked about by people who had enjoyed the CBS presentation.

Two things made the deepest impression.

First was the realization that Mrs. Kennedy has been and is continuing to be a prime mover in a project to create a White House museum, with a large part of the collection on display in the White House itself and the rest in the Smithsonian Institution.

Second was the realization that this charming young woman is so imbued with the history of the executive mansion that she speaks about it as an expert. To all who had been nursing the impression that Jacqueline Kennedy was too preoccupied with her numerous interests to take care of the President's house the way they thought it should be taken care of, the CBS expedition was an eye-opener.

Many of us have had the privilege of visiting the White House, but none of us ever had the privilege of being guided by a resident expert like Jacqueline Kennedy. She added new dimensions of interest in its furnishings and their significance and, incidentally, new dimensions of admiration for the First Lady of the United States.

It Wouldn't Be That Easy

One theme is played over and over in Washington comments on unemployment.

All government officials say something must be done about the jobless; that much is obvious and no one questions it.

But then they go on to say that the rate of economic growth must be stimulated so there will be more jobs. They even put an estimate on the amount of stimulation needed to bring about the jobs—up to an 8 per cent increase, some of them say.

It wouldn't be that easy.

No one professes to know how much unemployment can be blamed on improved technology—mechanization, automation etc. But employment experts are well aware of one thing about improved technology—that it has enabled industry to reach the same output with less manpower.

A STIMULATED rate of economic growth might do nothing but stabilize employment.

The U.S. Labor Department says the basic steel industry in 1947 produced 84.9 million tons with 655,000 workers. In 1960 the same number of workers produced 100 million tons, a 17 per cent increase.

The automobile industry, more highly automated than the steel industry, is able to produce more units with less labor. The coal mining industry is twice as productive as it was at the beginning of 1950; it is turning out as much coal with half as many employes.

These are typical of the hard facts that await government officials who say piously something must be done about the jobless; that economic growth must be stimulated.

IT IS POSSIBLE that the net effect of stimulating economic growth by any means available to the government short of becoming involved in a large-scale war would be merely to hold employment at existing levels, while unemployment continued to increase as more job-seekers entered the tight job market.

There is a limit to the comfort that can be derived from whistling in the dark about anything as frightening as increasing joblessness in a period of growth. This is not the old familiar problem of absorbing labor into an expanding economy. It is a new problem entirely.

It is now the problem of controlling the characteristics of a changing economic system to bring it into adjustment to a hard sociological fact—that human beings deserve and will demand a better fate in life than to be chronically unemployed.

If You Think Of Anything—

The story has too many things wrong with it to have been made up for the occasion. It must be true.

In his news conference of Feb. 15, 1961, President Kennedy invited his fellow citizens to send him ideas for saving federal money.

A North Carolina surgeon, Dr. Roderick B. Ormandy, wrote to the President last May to say he had an idea for saving money—cut out expensive custom-made signs erected at the site of new postoffice buildings.

Dr. Ormandy received no reply. He must have concluded that his letter to the White House had ended up in the "round file." Then, late last year he did get a reply.

He was told that his letter had started an inquiry which had shrunk the average cost of signs announcing the construction of new postoffices from $400 to $39, a considerable saving per sign.

The government signed agreements to build or lease about 2,000 postoffice sites in the last fiscal year. It expects to save about $700,000 on signs alone in the current fiscal year. And all because a citizen took literally a press conference remark about suggestions for saving money.

Apparently anyone can do it, so here goes for another three-quarter of a million dollars:

Get rid of all super de luxe limousines and special chauffeurs for government officials. Give the boys the use of a compact car for ordinary occasions and for extraordinary occasions let them call a cab.

Super deluxe limousines and chauffeurs are as out of place in a people's government as royal coaches and coachmen.

Within an 85-mile circle about Detroit are the home plants of companies manufacturing nine out of every 10 U. S. automobiles, the industry which sprang up about 50 years ago from the carriage-building business.

Teamsters Face New Probes

By Victor Riesel

Jimmy Hoffa's fascination with mammoth truck vans driven by hardy men over iced highways always leads him to that industrial vortex, Miami Beach, of course. On March 5 he will call his high command into session at an oceanside hotel there. They will meet not only to count their money which has been rolling into the Teamasters' treasury at the rate of $20 million annually because of the higher dues since Jan. 1. They will meet to count grand juries.

Victor Riesel

There now are at least 27 federal probes of the Hoffa brotherhood across the land. They are looking into virtually all sectors —city and state Teamster councils and literally hundreds of locals.

The official books of Hoffa's own Detroit Local 299—as well as the accountants basic working papers — are now being pored over by Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg's Bureau of Labor-Management Reports.

On Feb. 26, a federal judge in Orlando, Fla. will hear Hoffa's plea for dismissal of the $500,000 mail fraud indictment against him.

If this Hoffa legal maneuver fails, he will stand trial there some time in mid-March.

MEANWHILE some 35 of his chain of command await trial in the federal courts—29 of whom have been indicted by Bob Kennedy. There's another breakthrough coming in the South. We're all on what the Navy used to tell us was radio silence on this one. But watch for it.

Hoffa's opponents, mostly rolled up in the big bulk of the seafarers' Paul Hall, are preparing to war on Hoffa and his men from Puerto Rico to Philadelphia, to Boston, to Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee and St. Louis.

I would be the last, despite the two-front war, to underestimate Hoffa's staying power or ability to take the heat. But he got what he asked for—the acceptance of his loud and constant challenges and ubiquitous notice to the world that it had 24 hours to get out.

Result is that despite the most gargantuan flooding of a union treasury since the invention of the dues stamp, Hoffa can't do much with his new millions of dollars.

It has been generally forgotten that he increased the Teamster dues from 40 cents to a dollar per capita. This gives his headquarters an additional $8 million a year—or a total of $20 million annually.

JIMMY H. had hoped to use this money to sweep across the country in a vast organizing drive to build himself a new labor federation. He had hoped to go into the political wards and build himself a machine which could prove this fall that it could deliver votes.

But he is as busy as a suntan lotion stand at his favorite meeting place. Not the least of his problems now is the restlessness inside the Teamsters Brotherhood itself. From all over the East there are reports of the opposition being tried or expelled by Hoffa-controlled local executive boards.

Word from the West is different. There he has been trying to move control, for example, of the $137 million pension fund of the Western Conference of Teamsters to a Chicago insurance company.

That fund covers some 200,000 drivers and warehouse people. Recently it increased its benefits by 21 per cent. When it was set up, it had built-in protection.

Complex regulations actually put its investments into the unimpeachable hands of Prudential Life Insurance executives. But it has long been Hoffa's dream (with him completely unFreudian) to put himself in a position to influence about a billion dollars worth of Teamsters' pension funds.

THE SETUP in which he is most influential is the Central States Conference of the Teamsters. It is legally empowered to make individual loans—some of them running into the millions. But not so the Western Conference which covers 13 states. Hoffa has been so eager to get this fund shifted to the Midwest insurance company that he threatened to go to a recent meeting of the Western Conference in San Diego. That was held late in January. He got word he'd never make it. He did not show.

There is no suggestion here that Jimmy Hoffa's power is cracking. But he finally is getting that war he has been inviting. And it will be hotter before he gets an everlasting peace.

The Lion Pit

Opera's finest singers are being scared away from Parma's Royal Theater in Italy, where the world's toughest opera fans sit in judgment season after season.

Because the Parmese are critical beyond mercy, maestro Arturo Basile says "in the end they will have to content themselves with amateurs."

Singers refer to the Teatro Regio (Royal Theater) as "the lion pit" because of the often abusive fans. The pressure on performers is so great that one top singer, soprano Rosanna Carteri, fainted from nervous strain during a recent performance of "La Traviata." She later went on to complete the opera.

In this season the patrons of the "lion pit" have devoured New York-born soprano Giulia Barrera and Italian tenor Ruggero Bondino.

Miss Barrera made her Italian debut in Teatro Regio's opening performance of Verdi's "Don Carlos." The lions didn't like her. They made it so obvious that tenor Franco Corelli, an idol among the spectators, left his seat in the audience and announced before the third act that the soprano was ill and unable to perform at her best.

The eight parts of speech, as known by grammarians, are nouns, pronouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs, prepositions, conjunctions, and interjections.

New Approach Seen Answer To Needs

Three cheers for Councilman Duffy! Stick to your guns. You are right.

The citizens of East Liverpool have voiced their opinion about the city income tax and we do not need a hand-picked citizens' committee to tell Council how to spend the money. You are the committee the people picked when they voted you in there. And they put their trust in you to know how to do your job. Don't be persuaded.

There is one thing I cannot understand about politicians. They make all kinds of promises to get elected, then after they get in office they forget all about what and who put them in there. It kind of gets under your skin.

When someone promises you all kinds of things and you don't see those promises fulfilled. Then at the same time they want those same people to dig down in their pockets and pay for what they want to do. Even if it is contrary to all their promises. Then after you do that you still don't see any results forthcoming.

As far as running the city without an income tax goes, it can be done. If it is run the way it should be. They attack the job with the same old approach all the time. The strategy is never changed. The only thing they think about is digging into the little man's pocket. Well believe me they are just about to the bottom of the little man's pocket. I believe if it was me and I could not do the job I would quit running for it.

There is plenty of deadwood in different departments, in my opinion.

There are streets that could be smoothed up without any cost to the city outside of the wages the men already are receiving. But nothing is done about it. They are so rough you can hardly drive a car over them — namely Minerva, Avondale, Ambrose, lower Vine, Thompson and many others. All it would take is manpower and muscle. Is that so far out of date? Or can it not be done without big, expensive machinery.

As for the police and firemen, I think they deserve a raise. I know lots of people say they don't do much. But when they do a job they are putting their lives at forfeit. You will have to admit their jobs are dangerous at times. And remember we do have good protection on both sides.

I'm with you Mr. Duffy and any other members who will stick with the people. They put their trust in you. Keep that trust sacred.

This city can be run efficiently without the city income tax. All it would take is a little effort and a big change in tactics. Remember the people will always back a man if he is doing the job. With the right approach this city could be made self-supporting.

The various administrations bounce in and out of City Hall like a rubber ball. I think it's time we get a new ball in City Hall.

Give Tax A Chance, Writer Urges

Concerning the possible renewal of the wage tax.

I, like so many, was born in and have lived in this city all of my life. I would like to know what the people expect of a city when it can't get out of debt because it has no money?

They are again proposing the wage tax. The mayor has come out in the open and said "he is in favor of this tax". For this I congratulate him.

It seems to me the little that would be paid by each of the families of this city surely would not be much. I personally know that when it was in effect before our family didn't go hungry because of the small amount we had to pay.

Why is it that some people begrudge the paying of this tax? It seems that they expect results over night, which would be an awfully hard thing to accomplish.

It wouldn't effect people who are on a pension or unemployed. There are people who have lived in this city and never paid any taxes at all. The property owners have had to bear the expense of supporting our city. It is time the people who rent and have rented all their lives help in that support.

In closing, I again ask the people of East Liverpool to give this wage tax a chance for the sake of our town.

MRS. PEGGY BARKER

'Why Try The Income Tax Again?'

I cannot understand why anyone would try the city income tax again.

We, the people, vote for councilmen we think are capable of representing us. Then when these men get in office they are the same as the others.

I have heard editorial comment to the effect that we would not realize any improvement for six months. There wasn't anything done about what was collected a year ago. When any official was asked what happened to the tax money collected, it was said they had to pay for what the other administration didn't pay for. But our streets were better taken care of in the winter time than now.

There will have to be a better answer than that for myself and a lot of other people to believe it. I work in the pottery and work hard and if our mayor and other city officials are not capable of handling our money it is time to get somebody in those office who are capable.

I was in favor of the income tax at first, but now I am disgusted with the mess. I am speaking the opinion of a lot of people I work with.

I would still be in favor of the tax if there was some decent place provided for our teen-agers to have enjoyment instead of out on the street.

Appeal Made For More PTA Members

"On this Feb. 17 I would like to salute the PTAs' "Founders Day". For it commemorates the day on which, 65 years ago, a great imaginative idea took on the reality of a nationwide movement destined to change the lives of millions of children.

The PTA was a great invention, a great social invention of immeasurable power and influence. It was, and is, the idea that parents can become better parents by learning more about children's needs and about family relationship. It was, and is, the idea that a child's education progresses better when his parents and teachers know each other personally and plan together. It was, and is, the idea that fathers and mothers, teachers, school administrators and other concerned citizens — all working together — can accomplish for children what no single individual, not the wealthiest or the most powerful, can accomplish by himself. It is a way of mobilizing a great cooperation on behalf of children and youth.

The problems that beset our world today are complex and perplexing. The challenges of the sixties, for all PTAs are vast and urgent and the Columbiana County Area Council of PTAs extends to you the public a chance to help meet these challenges at an open meeting Tuesday night, Feb. 27, at the Westgate School.

Here you will view the national PTA film "Where Children Come First". In this film you will see the PTA in action across the nation through study groups, junior high debates, new teaching techniques and many other items that go to make up the 12 million members which we now have in our organization.

Also, on the same program you will be honored to hear Mrs. William Elliott speak on PTA activities and answer any questions that you might have on PTA work.

I challenge you, parent and teacher and interested citizens, of the tri-state area to take up your membership in a PTA and work with renewed efforts for an even better America.

They're Better Boys Now

Former President Eisenhower's second letter to the Senate subcommittee that looked into military "muzzling" seems to be an attempt to ease a policy the former five-star general enforced when he was in the White House.

Because censorship of speeches of top-level officials is belittling, he says, it should be dispensed with. Top-level officials should be put on their own. Then if they fail to live up to their obligation to guard their tongues, they should be dealt with by means "other than censorship." He does not say what the means would be.

Most of us had assumed that top-level officials would be cagey enough to guard their tongues without censorship, yet their speeches were subject to review under the Eisenhower administration. Even then so much loose-talking was done that the incoming Kennedy administration declared it would tighten up the setup because of embarrassing incidents that had happened when top-level officials talked out of turn.

It would seem to be true, therefore, that even under a censorship system some top-level officials will step out of line. There is no prospect that censorship of their speeches will be waived to spare their feelings about having speeches written for them by ghost-writers edited before delivery.

But in the meantime the Senate investigation undoubtedly has had a good effect on the dozen-odd men doing the pentagon's blue-penciling. It has made them acutely aware of the embarrassment always caused when a blue pencil job is reviewed later with a critical eye. The decisions had better have been sound.

A blue pencil is an instrument of temptation. With it, a mere human being can feel as if he had the wisdom of eternity and the power of 10,000 panthers. This calls for a strong sense of inner restraint.

One blue penicl will get you 50 erasers that the blue-pencil squad in the Pentagon is doing more intelligent editing right now than it ever did before — the automatic consequense of being asked to justify changes for which there may have been no justification but whim.

Token Integration For Clubmen

The mayor of New York said the other day he was looking over his club memberships with a view to taking "appropriate action" if he finds evidence of discrimination.

When it was revealed that Mr. Wagner belongs to 36 clubs the job began to look formidable. The fact was pointed out immediately that at least one organization has a discrimination policy against Negroes in its constitution and that the mayor never had been bothered about this until recently, though he has been a high officer of the organization and presumably has read the constitution.

Club discrimination has become an occupational hazard among Democrats since they began to hit front pages with well-publicized resignations from clubs in Washington. All over the country Democrats who never had been concerned about discrimination before are making a big thing of their lack of discrimination now in the hope of improving their party image.

It is a ticklish situation. The only way the image improvers could do the job right would be to stay in the clubs and prove the point there, instead of running away from something that never bothered them before.

They might have to resort in a showdown to the practice of token integration, which has been their inspired formula for handling the problem in southerin school systems. This would mean that every club which has no Negro members would admit at least one Negro to membership so its officers could say they are not practicing discrimination.

Meanwhile, to keep the scales in balance, Negro organizations that do not have white members could be doing the same thing—one white member apiece to prove the tolerance of the members. Unless something like this can be worked out, Democratic politicians like the Hon. Robert F. Wagner, Jr., won't have any club memberships to list in "Who's Who" at all. They will be the forgotten men of club society.

When We Visited The White House

Never were television cameras and audio gear used to better advantage than in the nation's visit to the White House Wednesday night, with Mrs. John F. Kennedy conducting the tour.

All day Thursday the excellent impression mady by the young First Lady's explanations of her project of bringing to the White House everything that can be found with a direct historic connection was being talked about by people who had enjoyed the CBS presentation.

Two things made the deepest impression.

First was the realization that Mrs. Kennedy has been and is continuing to be a prime mover in a project to create a White House museum, with a large part of the collection on display in the White House itself and the rest in the Smithsonian Institution.

Second was the realization that this charming young woman is so imbued with the history of the executive mansion that she speaks about it as an expert. To all who had been nursing the impression that Jacqueline Kennedy was too preoccupied with her numerous interests to take care of the President's house the way they thought it should be taken care of, the CBS expedition was an eye-opener.

Many of us have had the privilege of visiting the White House, but none of us ever had the privilege of being guided by a resident expert like Jacqueline Kennedy. She added new dimensions of interest in its furnishings and their significance and, incidentally, new dimensions of admiration for the First Lady of the United States.

It Wouldn't Be That Easy

One theme is played over and over in Washington comments on unemployment.

All government officials say something must be done about the jobless; that much is obvious and no one questions it.

But then they go on to say that the rate of economic growth must be stimulated so there will be more jobs. They even put an estimate on the amount of stimulation needed to bring about the jobs—up to an 8 per cent increase, some of them say.

It wouldn't be that easy.

No one professes to know how much unemployment can be blamed on improved technology—mechanization, automation etc. But employment experts are well aware of one thing about improved technology—that it has enabled industry to reach the same output with less manpower.

A STIMULATED rate of economic growth might do nothing but stabilize employment.

The U.S. Labor Department says the basic steel industry in 1947 produced 84.9 million tons with 655,000 workers. In 1960 the same number of workers produced 100 million tons, a 17 per cent increase.

The automobile industry, more highly automated than the steel industry, is able to produce more units with less labor. The coal mining industry is twice as productive as it was at the beginning of 1950; it is turning out as much coal with half as many employes.

These are typical of the hard facts that await government officials who say piously something must be done about the jobless; that economic growth must be stimulated.

IT IS POSSIBLE that the net effect of stimulating economic growth by any means available to the government short of becoming involved in a large-scale war would be merely to hold employment at existing levels, while unemployment continued to increase as more job-seekers entered the tight job market.

There is a limit to the comfort that can be derived from whistling in the dark about anything as frightening as increasing joblessness in a period of growth. This is not the old familiar problem of absorbing labor into an expanding economy. It is a new problem entirely.

It is now the problem of controlling the characteristics of a changing economic system to bring it into adjustment to a hard sociological fact—that human beings deserve and will demand a better fate in life than to be chronically unemployed.

If You Think Of Anything—

The story has too many things wrong with it to have been made up for the occasion. It must be true.

In his news conference of Feb. 15, 1961, President Kennedy invited his fellow citizens to send him ideas for saving federal money.

A North Carolina surgeon, Dr. Roderick B. Ormandy, wrote to the President last May to say he had an idea for saving money—cut out expensive custom-made signs erected at the site of new postoffice buildings.

Dr. Ormandy received no reply. He must have concluded that his letter to the White House had ended up in the "round file." Then, late last year he did get a reply.

He was told that his letter had started an inquiry which had shrunk the average cost of signs announcing the construction of new postoffices from $400 to $39, a considerable saving per sign.

The government signed agreements to build or lease about 2,000 postoffice sites in the last fiscal year. It expects to save about $700,000 on signs alone in the current fiscal year. And all because a citizen took literally a press conference remark about suggestions for saving money.

Apparently anyone can do it, so here goes for another three-quarter of a million dollars:

Get rid of all super de luxe limousines and special chauffeurs for government officials. Give the boys the use of a compact car for ordinary occasions and for extraordinary occasions let them call a cab.

Super deluxe limousines and chauffeurs are as out of place in a people's government as royal coaches and coachmen.

Within an 85-mile circle about Detroit are the home plants of companies manufacturing nine out of every 10 U. S. automobiles, the industry which sprang up about 50 years ago from the carriage-building business.

Teamsters Face New Probes

By Victor Riesel

Jimmy Hoffa's fascination with mammoth truck vans driven by hardy men over iced highways always leads him to that industrial vortex, Miami Beach, of course. On March 5 he will call his high command into session at an oceanside hotel there. They will meet not only to count their money which has been rolling into the Teamasters' treasury at the rate of $20 million annually because of the higher dues since Jan. 1. They will meet to count grand juries.

Victor Riesel

There now are at least 27 federal probes of the Hoffa brotherhood across the land. They are looking into virtually all sectors —city and state Teamster councils and literally hundreds of locals.

The official books of Hoffa's own Detroit Local 299—as well as the accountants basic working papers — are now being pored over by Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg's Bureau of Labor-Management Reports.

On Feb. 26, a federal judge in Orlando, Fla. will hear Hoffa's plea for dismissal of the $500,000 mail fraud indictment against him.

If this Hoffa legal maneuver fails, he will stand trial there some time in mid-March.

MEANWHILE some 35 of his chain of command await trial in the federal courts—29 of whom have been indicted by Bob Kennedy. There's another breakthrough coming in the South. We're all on what the Navy used to tell us was radio silence on this one. But watch for it.

Hoffa's opponents, mostly rolled up in the big bulk of the seafarers' Paul Hall, are preparing to war on Hoffa and his men from Puerto Rico to Philadelphia, to Boston, to Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee and St. Louis.

I would be the last, despite the two-front war, to underestimate Hoffa's staying power or ability to take the heat. But he got what he asked for—the acceptance of his loud and constant challenges and ubiquitous notice to the world that it had 24 hours to get out.

Result is that despite the most gargantuan flooding of a union treasury since the invention of the dues stamp, Hoffa can't do much with his new millions of dollars.

It has been generally forgotten that he increased the Teamster dues from 40 cents to a dollar per capita. This gives his headquarters an additional $8 million a year—or a total of $20 million annually.

JIMMY H. had hoped to use this money to sweep across the country in a vast organizing drive to build himself a new labor federation. He had hoped to go into the political wards and build himself a machine which could prove this fall that it could deliver votes.

But he is as busy as a suntan lotion stand at his favorite meeting place. Not the least of his problems now is the restlessness inside the Teamsters Brotherhood itself. From all over the East there are reports of the opposition being tried or expelled by Hoffa-controlled local executive boards.

Word from the West is different. There he has been trying to move control, for example, of the $137 million pension fund of the Western Conference of Teamsters to a Chicago insurance company.

That fund covers some 200,000 drivers and warehouse people. Recently it increased its benefits by 21 per cent. When it was set up, it had built-in protection.

Complex regulations actually put its investments into the unimpeachable hands of Prudential Life Insurance executives. But it has long been Hoffa's dream (with him completely unFreudian) to put himself in a position to influence about a billion dollars worth of Teamsters' pension funds.

THE SETUP in which he is most influential is the Central States Conference of the Teamsters. It is legally empowered to make individual loans—some of them running into the millions. But not so the Western Conference which covers 13 states. Hoffa has been so eager to get this fund shifted to the Midwest insurance company that he threatened to go to a recent meeting of the Western Conference in San Diego. That was held late in January. He got word he'd never make it. He did not show.

There is no suggestion here that Jimmy Hoffa's power is cracking. But he finally is getting that war he has been inviting. And it will be hotter before he gets an everlasting peace.

The Lion Pit

Opera's finest singers are being scared away from Parma's Royal Theater in Italy, where the world's toughest opera fans sit in judgment season after season.

Because the Parmese are critical beyond mercy, maestro Arturo Basile says "in the end they will have to content themselves with amateurs."

Singers refer to the Teatro Regio (Royal Theater) as "the lion pit" because of the often abusive fans. The pressure on performers is so great that one top singer, soprano Rosanna Carteri, fainted from nervous strain during a recent performance of "La Traviata." She later went on to complete the opera.

In this season the patrons of the "lion pit" have devoured New York-born soprano Giulia Barrera and Italian tenor Ruggero Bondino.

Miss Barrera made her Italian debut in Teatro Regio's opening performance of Verdi's "Don Carlos." The lions didn't like her. They made it so obvious that tenor Franco Corelli, an idol among the spectators, left his seat in the audience and announced before the third act that the soprano was ill and unable to perform at her best.

The eight parts of speech, as known by grammarians, are nouns, pronouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs, prepositions, conjunctions, and interjections.

New Approach Seen Answer To Needs

Three cheers for Councilman Duffy! Stick to your guns. You are right.

The citizens of East Liverpool have voiced their opinion about the city income tax and we do not need a hand-picked citizens' committee to tell Council how to spend the money. Artist Sketches Ancient Church

Among the thousands of drawings made by Cyril Taylor in a long professional career with the National Church Supply Co. in Chester is this sketch of a section of the Abingdon Congregational Church in England.

The massive beams in the drawing penciled by Taylor during a visit to his native country are believed to be the masts of the most famous of ships, the "Mayflower."

Timber from the ship which carried the Pilgrim Fathers to America in 1620 is believed to have been used in the construction of the old 17th Century church.

The huge pillars are located in a rear section of the Abingdon church, separate from the newer worship sanctuary.

The curved timbers at the top of the masts, as can be seen in Taylor's drawing, may be supports of some kind.

Researchers have found evidence to indicate the masts of the vessel were in a barn in Buckinghamshire for some time and were then conveyed to Abingdon by barge when the church was built in 1672.

Documents prove that the valuation of the Pilgrim ship, when it was broken up in 1658 at Rotherhithe, was not significant, suggesting that there was little importance attached to the 180-ton vessel at that time.

Historians contend that Jordan's Barn at Buckinghamshire was built partly of the hallowed limbs of the "Mayflower," and the surplus timber shipped with the masts to Abingdon.

Dr. Render Harris, author of the "Finding of the Mayflower," said in 1929 upon inspecting the masts that they were of Oregon pine and the measurements tallied with those of a ship of the "Mayflower" type. He thought they were extremely likely to be the actual "Mayflower's" masts which had not warped or shrunk for centuries.

It has been written that the little ship did make the return journey to England after the historic voyage to America when 100 men, women and children founded a colony at New Plymouth. They spent 69 days at sea.

It is surmised that in 1670 the masts were sent to Penn, and from these the two "lower masts and platforms were sent to Abingdon to be built into the chapel."

The church is located only 20 miles from Salgrave Manor which, like the Pilgrim ship, has a significant connection to American history. Salgrave Manor was the home of the ancestors of George Washington, the country's first president.

Taylor will leave for England Feb. 28 and return in September.

Classes Chosen To Take Special State Study Test

A fourth grade class at Calcutta School and a seventh grade class at the Beaver Local Public School have been selected to take a special test series Friday as part of an Ohio Education Department study on academic achievement and actual potential.

Beaver Local was chosen as one of the districts in the state as part of a sampling plan controlled by the size of the school system and the per - pupil instructional cost.

The research project, conducted by the Division of Special Education, aims at estimating the frequency of academic underachievement among elementary pupils with high scholastic aptitude, centered upon fourth and seventh grades.

The two classes will take the group of tests totaling 135 minutes for the fourth grade and 156 for the seventh grade.

The tests include the California Test of Mental Maturity and the California Achievement Test, designed to determine the differences between measured achievement and potential.

2 Countians Hurt In Crash

An East Palestine motorist and a passenger were injured in a car-truck accident at 3:20 a. m. today on Route 14 three miles east of Columbiana, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol. Officers also investigated two other accidents Friday.

Russell S. Bable, 37, of East Palestine suffered a laceration of the forehead and abrasions of the legs when his car rammed the dual wheels of a semi-tractor trailer truck driven by Thomas Milliron, 50, of Pittsburgh, officers said.

The patrol said Milliron attempted to get off the highway to avoid the collision. Mildred Proffitt, 37, of Salem, a passenger in the Bable car, suffered contusions of the left eye and knees.

Both were treated at Salem City Hospital. Bable was arrested for driving on the wrong side of the highway.

Cars driven by A. C. Barkley, 34, and Gerald Parker, 46, both of East Palestine, sideswiped on a curve on Township Rd. 952 near the Pennsylvania state line Friday morning at 8:40. No one was injured.

A car operated by Robert L. Rea, 27, of Salem R. D. 2 was struck by another driven by John Q. Adams, 46, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 in a freak accident Friday at 6:50 p. m. on Route 9 about four miles south of Salem.

Officers said Rea was halted in a private driveway leading off Route 9. Adams, who was traveling along the highway, saw the headlights of Rea's car and thought there was a curve. He then turned off the highway and into the private driveway and sideswiped Rea's car on the right side.

Adams was cited for reckless operation, officers said.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

Upgrade Your Thoughts

"Life consists in what a man is thinking of all day." So said Ralph Waldo Emerson. I often quote Emerson for he was one of the wisest men America ever produced. But apparently Emerson himself took a dim view of quoting others. In a discussion of immortality he said, "I notice that as soon as writers broach this question they begin to quote. I hate quotations. Tell me what you know."

DR. PEALE

And how right he was! To know something for yourslf is to possess real meaning in life. This is particularly true where spiritual principles and techniques are concerned. For when they are put to work by a person who knows they will work, he is on the way to creative results.

I happen to be one who writes books designed to help people with their life's problems. The many letters I receive from readers who have actually put spiritual techniques into operation are most enthusiastic. They know for themselves what these principles will do.

IN MY MOST recent book I wrote about one technique which has helped a lot of people. It is this. When things are not going too well drop everything and do a reshaping job on your thinking. This is most important, for the simple reason that we tend to become exactly like our basic or motivating thought patterns. And when you change your thoughts, you can change everything.

At a dinner party I noticed a man who was an exceptionally vibrant and alive personality. I marveled at his dynamic outgoingness. To a fellow pastor, also present at the dinner, I said, "Quite a man. He seems alive way down deep."

"You should have seen this fellow a few years back," the pastor replied. "Never a smile out of him then. He carried the weight of the world on his shoulders. He was a sourpuss if ever there was one and people hated to see him come around and start spouting pessimism.

"He made money, plenty of it. He always was a real good businessman and he put together a big enterprise employing several hundred people. But he got no pleasure out of it and he was becoming a crabbed, mean, irritable old man years before his time—if there is such a time.

"He got to feeling physically sick — and little wonder with all those sick attitudes of his. Began to feel pain in his chest and arms, and was breathless at times. The doctor warned him to ease up, that his blood pressure was not quite normal. And other aches and pains bothered him and he virtually haunted doctors' offices.

"One doctor shipped him off to a specialist in Chicago and there he really got it. This specialist went over him, gave him all the tests, and at the conclusion of consultations said: 'Your pains are not real but pseudo and they come not from faulty heart action but from wrong thought action. There is nothing very wrong with you physically that couldn't be OK if you only got your thinking straightened out. In some way the life has been knocked out of you, and you had better rebuild it or else.'

"THE DOCTOR looked at him for a long minute and said, 'Better go home, go to church and get some honest-to-God religion!'

"Yes, sir, believe it or not that's exactly what the specialist said. Then he added: 'That's my prescription. Fifteen hundred dollars please.'

" 'Fifteen hundred bucks! For what?' our friend shouted.

" 'For knowing what to tell you,' the doctor quietly answered. 'You charge plenty for your services, don't you?'

"Well, the man came home and immediately came to see me," the pastor continued. "And was he mad; called that specialist a holdup man and other names. He told me he would get fifteen hundred dollars' worth out of it if it killed him. And, what did that doctor mean by sending him to a minister to get religion! I explained the powerful effect of wrong thinking on the physical body and gave him some counseling and spiritual "treatment." It was a long process but he kept coming and followed directions.

"You see, he had paid through the nose for advice and at first what motivated him most was simply to get his money's worth. But soon he got beyond hating the specialist, whom he now thinks is a great man.

The doctor sized him up correctly; knew if he charged him a big fee he would think the advice important enough to treat seriously. At any rate he got his thinking revamped and you see what he is today."

when all the final returns are filed, the tax office said.

Individuals whose entire earnings were subject to withholding are not affected by the requirement for final reports. Reports filed by their employers obviated this requirement.

The mayor's figures on the 1961 income and expenditures in the tax fund cover all the receipts and disbursements up to Dec. 31.

They show disbursements of $40,924.89, transfers of $87,338.32 and a cash balance of $14,853.63. Added together, the three figures equal the tax collections of $123,114.84 listed through Dec. 31.

Included in the disbursements are five items of expenses incurred in the tax office operations. They are: Salaries, $11,729.17; printing forms and supplies, $4,429.27; incidentals, $2,111.60; equipment renovation and office alterations, $689.60, and consultant's contract, $6,300.

Also listed under disbursements are: Road oil purchase, $4,783.80; St. Clair Ave. improvement fund, $10,206, and interest on notes, $675.45.

The road oil was purchased for a citywide project for treating unsurfaced streets to keep down the dust in the summertime. The disbursement to the St. Clair Ave. fund represents money paid out for planning a new roadway on the stretch from Jennings Ave. to the city limits, for which the federal government has agreed to pay 50 per cent of the cost.

The item for interest on notes came about because the city borrowed money for pressing needs against the anticipated needs from the tax, then retired the notes out of part of the revenue. The alternative would have been to wait several months until the tax receipts built up.

The transfers, totaling $87,336.32, were: To general fund, $53,883.83; to street department fund, $6,700; to swimming pool fund, $1,500, and to bond retirement fund, $5,252.49.

The transfers mean that part of the income tax revenue were used to bolster the city's normal operating receipts. For instance, the general fund foots the bill for all the city offices as well as the fire and police departments, and others.

The question of a new income tax is before Council again. The mayor suggested re-enactment of the tax at a caucus session Monday. Council took the proposal under advisement.

In commenting today on his suggestion, the mayor said he wants to make it plain that no ambitious capital improvement program can be expected in 1962, even if a new tax is enacted.

He cited the fact the general fund was overdrawn $10,384 at the end of 1961 and there was an accumulation of $17,109 in unpaid bills dating back to May, according to a report given Council by the finance committee Jan. 29.

At the same time, the finance committee reported that the general fund's income in 1962 will be down approximately $98,000 from 1961.

"The only thing we can do in 1962, if the tax is enacted, is to pull ourselves out of the mire of debt and possibly purchase some new city equipment," the mayor said. "We can't expect any capital improvements until 1963. If the people will permit the tax to stay in effect, we can begin to show some results then.

"To operate the city on the same level as 1961, most of the new revenue would be required to bolster the operating funds," the mayor said. "Our operating income is far below our operating expenses."

A program of capital improvements must be financed and worked out over a span of years, he pointed out. A year's time would not permit the city to set up and pay for such needed improvements as street projects, additional street lighting, establishment of planning and zoning, a recreation program and many others, he said.

As an example of a city operation financed by additional revenue allowed the municipality by the voters, the mayor cited the case of the incinerator department.

"Some years ago, the city fathers decided the garbage collection system was at a low ebb," he said. "I was a member of Council at the time.

"The department operated on a cash basis and the money passed through three or four hands before it got into the city treasury. The officials decided to put a levy on the ballot to pay for the incinerator department operations.

"The people went along and gave the city the levy. Later they voted an increase. The people trusted the administration at that time and were willing to give it an opportunity to set up the operation under the tax system.

"Since that time, the department has operated successfully under all the city administrations. It functions with money from no other source.

"I believe if the people gave the administration and Council a chance to show what they can do with the income tax we will show the same kind of results as when the money was voted to operate the incinerator department.

"Maybe we've been looking at this tax from the wrong angle," the mayor said. "Instead of asking: 'How much will it cost me?' we should say: 'How much will it save me?'"

As an example of possible savings, he said curtailment of city operations for lack of money could mean a cutback in the personnel of the fire department. Since most East Liverpool homes are not insured for their replacement cost, if a house was destroyed by fire for lack of adequate fire department service, the home - owner would have to foot part of the bill for the rebuilding out of his own pocket, the mayor said.

If the fire department remains at full strength, a home might be damaged by fire, but there is not nearly so strong a possibility that it would be destroyed totally, he asserted.

Keeping streets in good repair would mean a saving to the motoring public in expenses for damaged tires, front end assemblies knocked out of alignment, broken springs and all the other mishaps that can damage a car on rough streets, the mayor added.

Man Escapes Injury In Breaking Window

An unidentified man apparently escaped injury early this morning when he fell through a plate glass window at the Petrosol Service Station, 1101 Pennsylvania Ave.

The man fell through the 4-by-8-foot double - strength window while "acting up," Richard Kelly, station attendant, told officers.

Kelly called police at 2:10 a. m. to report the incident and explained four men were standing in front of the office when one began "acting up" and fell through the window.

The man then ran down the street and no one could catch him, Kelly told officers.

Classes Chosen To Take Special State Study Test

A fourth grade class at Calcutta School and a seventh grade class at the Beaver Local Public School have been selected to take a special test series Friday as part of an Ohio Education Department study on academic achievement and actual potential.

Beaver Local was chosen as one of the districts in the state as part of a sampling plan controlled by the size of the school system and the per - pupil instructional cost.

The research project, conducted by the Division of Special Education, aims at estimating the frequency of academic underachievement among elementary pupils with high scholastic aptitude, centered upon fourth and seventh grades.

The two classes will take the group of tests totaling 135 minutes for the fourth grade and 156 for the seventh grade.

The tests include the California Test of Mental Maturity and the California Achievement Test, designed to determine the differences between measured achievement and potential.

2 Countians Hurt In Crash

An East Palestine motorist and a passenger were injured in a car-truck accident at 3:20 a. m. today on Route 14 three miles east of Columbiana, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol. Officers also investigated two other accidents Friday.

Russell S. Bable, 37, of East Palestine suffered a laceration of the forehead and abrasions of the legs when his car rammed the dual wheels of a semi-tractor trailer truck driven by Thomas Milliron, 50, of Pittsburgh, officers said.

The patrol said Milliron attempted to get off the highway to avoid the collision. Mildred Proffitt, 37, of Salem, a passenger in the Bable car, suffered contusions of the left eye and knees.

Both were treated at Salem City Hospital. Bable was arrested for driving on the wrong side of the highway.

Cars driven by A. C. Barkley, 34, and Gerald Parker, 46, both of East Palestine, sideswiped on a curve on Township Rd. 952 near the Pennsylvania state line Friday morning at 8:40. No one was injured.

A car operated by Robert L. Rea, 27, of Salem R. D. 2 was struck by another driven by John Q. Adams, 46, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 in a freak accident Friday at 6:50 p. m. on Route 9 about four miles south of Salem.

Officers said Rea was halted in a private driveway leading off Route 9. Adams, who was traveling along the highway, saw the headlights of Rea's car and thought there was a curve. He then turned off the highway and into the private driveway and sideswiped Rea's car on the right side.

Adams was cited for reckless operation, officers said.

Autoist Cited After He Overturns His Car

A Chester area man was cited on a charge of driving while intoxicated after his 1955 model sedan overturned at 2 a.m. today on State Route 2, Hancock County sheriff's deputies said.

Wayne Williamson, 36, of R.D. 1 was driving north when he lost control and upset on the left side of the highway, a half mile north of the junction with Middle Run Rd.

Deputies said the auto was demolished. Williamson posted $108 bond for a hearing Monday night at 7:30 before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

City Auto Damaged In Mishap At Chester

The car of an East Liverpool motorist received about $650 damage when struck by a tractor-trailer that pulled from the parking lot of the W. & J. Terminal on W. Carolina Ave. in Chester Friday about 3:45 p. m.

The sedan was driven by Sherman A. Thomas, 1711 Globe St. Gilbert J. Ray, 32, of Irwin, the truck driver, posted a $15 bond for a hearing Monday at 7 p. m. before Mayor Ray Collins on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

Upgrade Your Thoughts

"Life consists in what a man is thinking of all day." So said Ralph Waldo Emerson. I often quote Emerson for he was one of the wisest men America ever produced. But apparently Emerson himself took a dim view of quoting others. In a discussion of immortality he said, "I notice that as soon as writers broach this question they begin to quote. I hate quotations. Tell me what you know."

DR. PEALE

And how right he was! To know something for yourself is to possess real meaning in life. This is particularly true where spiritual principles and techniques are concerned. For when they are put to work by a person who knows they will work, he is on the way to creative results.

I happen to be one who writes books designed to help people with their life's problems. The many letters I receive from readers who have actually put spiritual techniques into operation are most enthusiastic. They know for themselves what these principles will do.

IN MY MOST recent book I wrote about one technique which has helped a lot of people. It is this. When things are not going too well drop everything and do a reshaping job on your thinking. This is most important, for the simple reason that we tend to become exactly like our basic or motivating thought patterns. And when you change your thoughts, you can change everything.

At a dinner party I noticed a man who was an exceptionally vibrant and alive personality. I marveled at his dynamic outgoingness. To a fellow pastor, also present at the dinner, I said, "Quite a man. He seems alive way down deep."

"You should have seen this fellow a few years back," the pastor replied. "Never a smile out of him then. He carried the weight of the world on his shoulders. He was a sourpuss if ever there was one and people hated to see him come around and start spouting pessimism.

"He made money, plenty of it. He always was a real good businessman and he put together a big enterprise employing several hundred people. But he got no pleasure out of it and he was becoming a crabbed, mean, irritable old man years before his time—if there is such a time.

"He got to feeling physically sick — and little wonder with all those sick attitudes of his. Began to feel pain in his chest and arms, and was breathless at times. The doctor warned him to ease up, that his blood pressure was not quite normal. And other aches and pains bothered him and he virtually haunted doctors' offices.

"One doctor shipped him off to a specialist in Chicago and there he really got it. This specialist went over him, gave him all the tests, and at the conclusion of consultations said: 'Your pains are not real but pseudo and they come not from faulty heart action but from wrong thought action. There is nothing very wrong with you physically that couldn't be OK if you only got your thinking straightened out. In some way the life has been knocked out of you, and you had better rebuild it or else.'

"THE DOCTOR looked at him for a long minute and said, 'Better go home, go to church and get some honest-to-God religion!'

"Yes, sir, believe it or not that's exactly what the specialist said. Then he added: 'That's my prescription. Fifteen hundred dollars please.'

" 'Fifteen hundred bucks! For what?' our friend shouted.

" 'For knowing what to tell you,' the doctor quietly answered. 'You charge plenty for your services, don't you?'

"Well, the man came home and immediately came to see me," the pastor continued. "And was he mad; called that specialist a holdup man and other names. He told me he would get fifteen hundred dollars' worth out of it if it killed him. And, what did that doctor mean by sending him to a minister to get religion! I explained the powerful effect of wrong thinking on the physical body and gave him some counseling and spiritual "treatment." It was a long process but he kept coming and followed directions.

"You see, he had paid through the nose for advice and at first what motivated him most was simply to get his money's worth. But soon he got beyond hating the specialist, whom he now thinks is a great man.

The doctor sized him up correctly; knew if he charged him a big fee he would think the advice important enough to treat seriously. At any rate he got his thinking revamped and you see what he is today."

Tax Payment At $132,948

when all the final returns are filed, the tax office said.

Individuals whose entire earnings were subject to withholding are not affected by the requirement for final reports. Reports filed by their employers obviated this requirement.

The mayor's figures on the 1961 income and expenditures in the tax fund cover all the receipts and disbursements up to Dec. 31.

They show disbursements of $40,924.89, transfers of $67,338.32 and a cash balance of $14,853.63. Added together, the three figures equal the tax collections of $123,-114.84 listed through Dec. 31.

Included in the disbursements are five items of expenses incurred in the tax office operations. They are: Salaries, $11,-729.17; printing forms and supplies, $4,429.27; incidentals, $2,-111.60; equipment renovation and office alterations, $689.60, and consultant's contract, $6,300.

Also listed under disbursements are: Road oil purchase, $4,783.80; St. Clair Ave. improvement fund, $10,206, and interest on notes, $873.45.

The road oil was purchased for a citywide project for treating unsurfaced streets to keep down the dust in the summertime. The disbursement to the St. Clair Ave. fund represents money paid out for planning a new roadway on the stretch from Jennings Ave. to the city limits, for which the federal government has agreed to pay 50 per cent of the cost.

The item for interest on notes came about because the city borrowed money for pressing needs against the anticipated needs from the tax, then retired the notes out of part of the revenue. The alternative would have been to wait several months until the tax receipts built up.

The transfers, totaling $67,-338.32, were: To general fund, $53,883.83; to street department fund, $6,700; to swimming pool fund, $1,500, and to bond retirement fund, $5,252.49.

The transfers mean that part of the income tax revenue were used to bolster the city's normal operating receipts. For instance, the general fund foots the bill for all the city offices as well as the fire and police departments, and others.

The question of a new income tax is before Council again. The mayor suggested re-enactment of the tax at a caucus session Monday. Council took the proposal under advisement.

In commenting today on his suggestion, the mayor said he wants to make it plain that no ambitious capital improvement program can be expected in 1962, even if a new tax is enacted.

He cited the fact the general fund was overdrawn $10,384 at the end of 1961 and there was an accumulation of $17,109 in unpaid bills dating back to May, according to a report given Council by the finance committee Jan. 29.

At the same time, the finance committee reported that the general fund's income in 1962 will be down approximately $98,000 from 1961.

"The only thing we can do in 1962, if the tax is enacted, is to pull ourselves out of the mire of debt and possibly purchase some new city equipment," the mayor said. "We can't expect any capital improvements until 1963. If the people will permit the tax to stay in effect, we can begin to show some results then.

"To operate the city on the same level as 1961, most of the new revenue would be required to bolster the operating funds," the mayor said. "Our operating income is far below our operating expenses."

A program of capital improvements must be financed and worked out over a span of years, he pointed out. A year's time would not permit the city to set up and pay for such needed improvements as street projects, additional street lighting, establishment of planning and zoning, a recreation program and many others, he said.

As an example of a city operation financed by additional revenue allowed the municipality by the voters, the mayor cited the case of the incinerator department.

"Some years ago, the city fathers decided the garbage collection system was at a low ebb," he said. "I was a member of Council at the time.

"The department operated on a cash basis and the money passed through three or four hands before it got into the city treasury. The officials decided to put a levy on the ballot to pay for the incinerator department operations.

"The people went along and gave the city the levy. Later they voted an increase. The people trusted the administration at that time and were willing to give it an opportunity to set up the operation under the tax system.

"Since that time, the department has operated successfully under all the city administrations. It functions with money from no other source.

"I believe if the people gave the administration and Council a chance to show what they can do with the income tax we will show the same kind of results as when the money was voted to operate the incinerator department.

"Maybe we've been looking at this tax from the wrong angle," the mayor said. "Instead of asking: 'How much will it cost me?' we should say: 'How much will it save me?'"

As an example of possible savings, he said curtailment of city operations for lack of money could mean a cutback in the personnel of the fire department. Since most East Liverpool homes are not insured for their replacement cost, if a house was destroyed by fire for lack of adequate fire department service, the home - owner would have to foot part of the bill for the rebuilding out of his own pocket, the mayor said.

If the fire department remains at full strength, a home might be damaged by fire, but there is not nearly so strong a possibility that it would be destroyed totally, he asserted.

Keeping streets in good repair would mean a saving to the motoring public in expenses for damaged tires, front end assemblies knocked out of alignment, broken springs and all the other mishaps that can damage a car on rough streets, the mayor added.

Riders' 17-Point Lead At Half Too Much To Overcome

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters looked like a new team in the second half Friday night, with their performance in the third and fourth quarters proving one of the better showings of the season.

However, a 17-point lead piled up by Martins Ferry at halftime after some erratic play by the Potters in the early going led to a 77-68 defeat for East Liverpool Friday night at Memorial Auditorium.

A crowd of some 800 sat in on the battle between the ancient rivals and saw the Potters brush away the Purple Riders' lead during the second half with some good, hard driving basketball.

The nine-point difference in the final score doesn't tell the whole story of the game. With only 1:07 remaining, sophomore standout Frank McComas hit a field goal to bring the one-time 17-point lead down to three points, 71-68.

MARTINS Ferry got three quick buckets in the last 45 seconds to account for the nine-point spread. Bob Scheehle, 6-foot-3 center for the Riders, scored one and All-Ohio football star Vic Rose accounted for two others, one of which sailed through the air as the final buzzer sounded.

The loss went into the books as East Liverpool's ninth in 15 games, while Coach Ed McGlumphy's Riders captured their 11th against six defeats.

Coach Jim Harris changed the Potter lineup in the second half when starters Huck Steffen, Roger Linville and the team's leading scorer, Jack Deshler, were replaced by Tom Kraft, Ed Prentice and Dave Harriel. Rounding out the Potter five which played the second half so well were Dean Cline and McComas.

Martins Ferry took a 19-9 first quarter lead and was in front, 41-24 at halftime. At this point, it appeared the Potters would be a pushover for the Riders.

East Liverpool, however, started to chop away at the lead as the third quarter opened. The margin was down to 10 points after the first two minutes and 30 seconds, but Bob Wacker, a 6-foot-1 cager who is the leading scorer for Martins Ferry, wouldn't let the Potters get any closer.

—:—

WACKER, who wound up with 20 points, fired in eight outside push shots to keep the Ferry lead at 12 points when the third period ended.

East Liverpool, which hadn't led since the opening minute of the game, brought the count to within seven points, 59-52, after Prentice had hit on a one-hander with 6:15 still left in the game.

Kraft scored a field goal and a foul then Cline was right on the spot to tip for two points and the Blue and White came even closer, 67-62, with 3:20 showing on the clock.

Substitute Larry Green and Rose put Ferry's lead back to nine, 71-62, but then the Potters made their final bid.

PRENTICE hit again, Cline followed with a two-pointer and McComas scored the final two points that brought the Potters to within three, 71-68.

Three underclassmen paced the Potters, a note that should make Harris happy.

Cline, who had his troubles in the first half, wound up with team scoring honors. After collecting seven points in the first two periods, Cline dropped in 13 points in the second half for a 20-point effort, his best of the season. Cline was also the top man in the rebound department for the Potters with 10.

MCCOMAS also hit a new high with 16 points, including 10 in the second-half drive.

Coming off the bench again to spark the team was Kraft. He turned in a 14-point performance with four field goals and six of 11 fouls.

It was the driving, especially by Kraft and McComas, that opened up the Rider defense and caused Ferry to commit numerous fouls. The Potters shot 37 times from the charity line, making 24.

Prentice and Harriel turned in adequate relief jobs, with Prentice adding seven points and Harriel four.

It was Wacker and Scheehle who gave Ferry a solid one-two punch. Both stood over any Potters on the floor and each contributed 20 points.

Wacker was particularly tough from outside. Rose wound up with 16 points and Larry Fish, another starter, hit the double figures for 11.

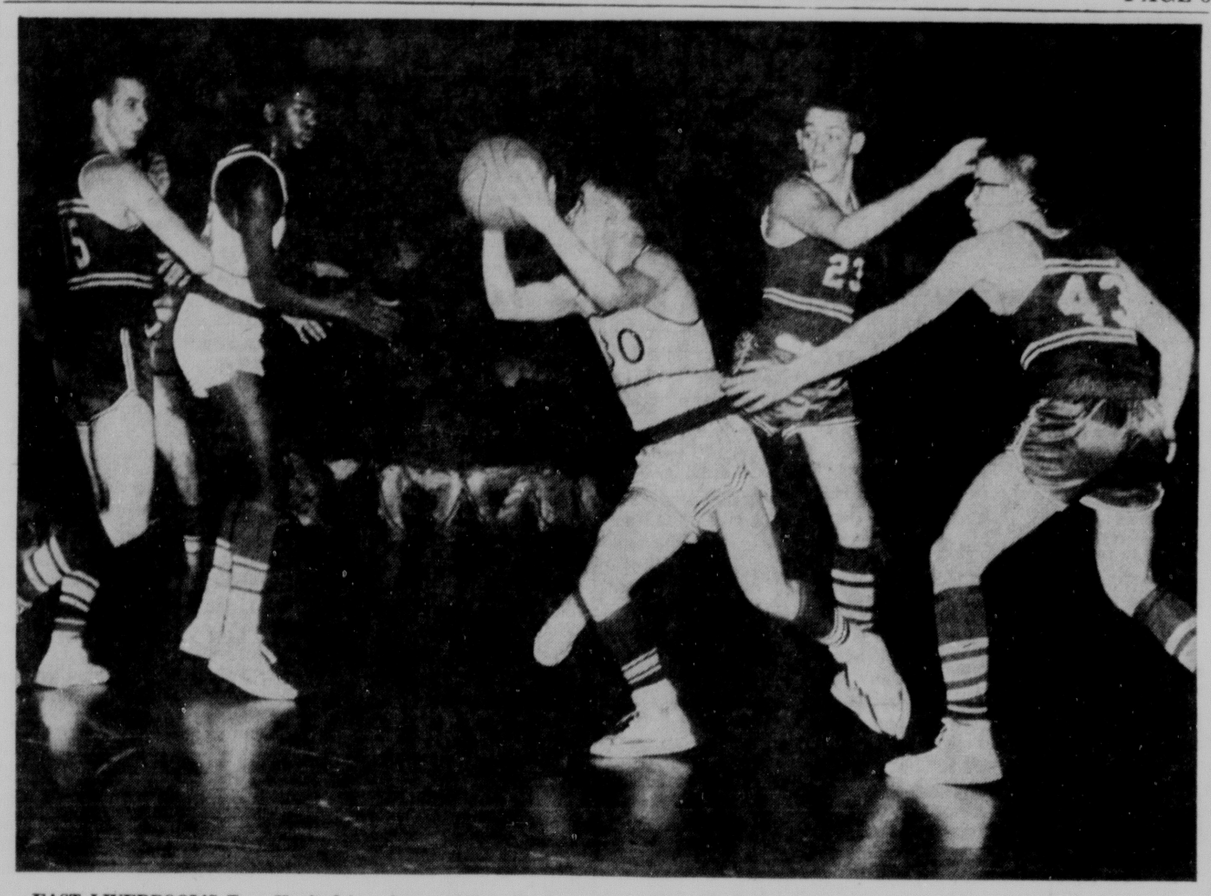

Ferry showed a real shooting club. In a 32-minute high school game, the Riders managed to get off 84 shots and made 32 for 38 percent. The Potters shot 61 times and canned 22 for 36.

East Liverpool takes a Saturday night off, but has its work cut out next week. Tuesday Wellsville will invade the M-A, followed by Bellaire on Friday and Weirton, West Virginia's second-ranked schoolboy team on Saturday.

Wellsville Fires 50%; Baldwin Scores 23 In 8th Victory

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

In probably their peak performance of the year, Wellsville High's Tigers continued a determined bid to avoid a losing season in crushing Toronto, 76-53, Friday night.

A crowd of 550 looked on at Beacom Memorial gym as the Tigers shot 50 per cent and passed their opponents dizzy in easing to their eighth victory of the season and third in a row.

It was the final game on the home boards for Coach Jack McDevitt's Orange and Black, and the Tiger fans saw a fine exhibition of teamwork and shooting.

Wellsville registered on nine of 18 shots in the first period to grab a commanding 21-7 lead, and the Tigers were never headed or their huge lead threatened after that.

The Tigers flashed a lot more poise and polish in virtually all departments in gaining a repeat victory over their Sectional AA foe. In an early season game at Toronto, the Tigers had difficulty in posting a 56-51 decision.

The Tigers take their 8-9 season record into the season finale Tuesday night against East Liverpool and will be biding to avoid a losing campaign. The battle is set for Memorial Auditorium where Wellsville hasn't posted a victory since the Bevo Francis era of 1951-52.

A win would give them a .500 average for the year, while a loss would bring the first loser for McDevitt since he became head coach in 1957-58. McDevitt shows a 58-42 record to date.

BALDWIN, hitting well from the corners and in close, scored 23 points to lead Wellsville's 30-goal attack.

In strong supporting roles were Nelson with 12 points and a good all-around effort, Ours with 15 and Forrest Harris with 12. Harris fouled out with 1:44 left in the third period.

If there was ever a "drop of genius in a barrel of sweat" it was Toronto's Tom Coulter, a quick - handed 5-8 sophomore guard.

Coulter, who overcame a siege of rheumatic fever as an eighth grader to make the varsity as a frosh, poured in 27 points and kept the Red Knights in the game almost single - handedly.

The red-haired youngster scored 23 of Toronto's 27 points in the first half on a variety of hooks, drive-ins and jump shots. An uncanny foul shooter, he made 7-for-7 for the night.

COACH Paul Kalivoda's Red Knights returned home with a 7-8 record. Like Wellsville, the Knights are underdogs in the Sectional AA tournament opening Feb. 26 at Steubenville Big Red gymnasium.

Toronto fired 32 per cent for the game, hitting 19 of 59 shots. The Tigers hit exactly half of their 60 attempts. They were consistent all the way, dropping in 9 of 18 in the first quarter, 8 of 15 in the second, 9 of 15 in the third and 4 of 12 in the final one.

Wellsville's reserves, who have been cutting quite a figure in the first year of Coach Chick McMillan, won their 11th game, 64-63, in a preliminary thriller decided in one overtime.

Andy Dash, coming through when the pressure was greatest, dropped in two quick field goals in the final stages of the regulation game to bring Wellsville from behind to a 62-60 lead.

—:—

THEN Toronto's Harmon tallied on a drive shot to deadlock the score 62-62, with only six seconds left. Dash fired a desperate set shot at the buzzer but missed and the game headed into a three-minute overtime period.

Dash hit from the pivot area with 2:04 left in the extended period to give the Tigers a 64-62 margin.

Only 19 seconds remained when Mark Leyda fouled Toronto's Hutchinson and the Red Knight cager stepped to the foul line with a one-and-one opportunity and a chance to tie the score.

Hutchinson's first shot dropped through to cut Wellsville's lead to 64-63, but he missed on the second try and there was no more scoring after that.

The defeat was only the second of the year for Toronto's reserves, who fought back from a 13-point deficit in the final quarter to pull even at the end. Dash's 15 points led Wellsville, now 11-4. Don Welch scored 12 in a standout game, while Lester Bennett also tallied 12.

Columbiana Stuns Poland Quint

COLUMBIANA — A crowd of 1,200 saw Columbiana High's Clippers pull a major upset here Friday night in dealing previously unbeaten Poland a 50-49 defeat.

The loss was the first in 16 games for Poland, a squad that was rated 14th in Ohio last week.

Columbiana was on the short end of a 42-38 score after three quarters and battled back to win a squeaker.

The Clippers led by 48-45 with 48 seconds remaining when Bill Murphy hoisted their lead to 50-47 with a field goal.

Then Barnhizer of Poland countered with three seconds remaining to bring the visitors to within one point, 50-49.

Schultz led Columbiana with 16 points, while Murphy had 15 and Gallagher 10. Zimmer led Poland with 15 points.

Columbiana has a mathematical chance to clinch at least a tie for the Tri-County League crown.

The Clippers must win tonight at Louisville and Poland would have to lose in entertaining Leetonia for the league to end in a two-way deadlock.

Columbiana is 11-2 in the league and 14-3 overall. Poland has a narrow edge in the league, 12-1, and is 16-1 overall.

Beaver Local Pins 56-54 Loss On New Cumberland

Beaver Local winds up its season at West Branch tonight and the Beavers can take a 56-54 victory over New Cumberland with them.

Coach Tom McCall's charges took over the lead in the late stages and hung on for a two-point victory Friday night on the Beaver Local floor.

Visiting New Cumberland, which now shows a 6-13 record, became Beaver Local's fifth victim of the season. The Beavers have dropped 12 starts.

After taking a 14-11 lead at the first quarter pole, Beaver Local was behind, 32-29, at halftime and 42-39 at the expiration of the third quarter, but came to life in the late stages to annex the victory.

Juniors Gary Berhar and George Gaydos accounted for the big brunt of the Beaver attack with 14 points each. Dave Hawkins chipped in with a valuable 10 points.

Beaver Local made it a clean sweep when the reserves captured a 52-43 battle.

United Upsets W. Branch On Schaffer's Foul Shots

Jerry Schaffer, who has been the standout for United this season, stood at the foul line with 10 seconds to go and his team trailing by one point.

The 5-foot-11 senior dropped in both fouls to give his team a 46-45 upset victory at West Branch Friday night.

Sugar Ray Faces Denny Moyer In TV Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — When Sugar Ray Robinson fights in these twilight years of a great career, the younger generation peeks in so it can say, "I saw him once." The older buffs, who knew him when, want to boast, "I saw the kid's last fight."

Sugar Ray, at 41 more of a waltz king than a toe dancer, does not plan to give the oldtimers a last look for some time to come.

"I won't quit until I win back the middleweight title," said Robinson when asked if he might retire if he lost tonight's rematch with young Denny Moyer at Madison Square Garden.

The 10-round rematch, scheduled for 10 p.m. EST will be carried on ABC television. Two judges and a referee will score it by rounds, using a supplementary point system in case the rounds are even. Robinson is a 2-1 favorite.

Robinson is getting $20,000 and a percentage of the gate.

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters looked like a new team in the second half Friday night, with their performance in the third and fourth quarters proving one of the better showings of the season.

However, a 17-point lead piled up by Martins Ferry at halftime after some erratic play by the Potters in the early going led to a 77-68 defeat for East Liverpool Friday night at Memorial Auditorium.

A crowd of some 800 sat in on the battle between the ancient rivals and saw the Potters brush away the Purple Riders' lead during the second half with some good, hard driving basketball.

The nine-point difference in the final score doesn't tell the whole story of the game. With only 1:07 remaining, sophomore standout Frank McComas hit a field goal to bring the one-time 17-point lead down to three points, 71-68.

MARTINS Ferry got three quick buckets in the last 45 seconds to account for the nine-point spread. Bob Scheehle, 6-foot-3 center for the Riders, scored one and All-Ohio football star Vic Rose accounted for two others, one of which sailed through the air as the final buzzer sounded.

The loss went into the books as East Liverpool's ninth in 15 games, while Coach Ed McGlumphy's Riders captured their 11th against six defeats.

Coach Jim Harris changed the Potter lineup in the second half when starters Huck Steffen, Roger Linville and the team's leading scorer, Jack Deshler, were replaced by Tom Kraft, Ed Prentice and Dave Harriel. Rounding out the Potter five which played the second half so well were Dean Cline and McComas.

Martins Ferry took a 19-9 first quarter lead and was in front, 41-24 at halftime. At this point, it appeared the Potters would be a pushover for the Riders.

East Liverpool, however, started to chop away at the lead as the third quarter opened. The margin was down to 10 points after the first two minutes and 30 seconds, but Bob Wacker, a 6-foot-1 cager who is the leading scorer for Martins Ferry, wouldn't let the Potters get any closer.

—:—

WACKER, who wound up with 20 points, fired in eight outside push shots to keep the Ferry lead at 12 points when the third period ended.

East Liverpool, which hadn't led since the opening minute of the game, brought the count to within seven points, 59-52, after Prentice had hit on a one-hander with 6:15 still left in the game.

Kraft scored a field goal and a foul then Cline was right on the spot to tip for two points and the Blue and White came even closer, 67-62, with 3:20 showing on the clock.

Substitute Larry Green and Rose put Ferry's lead back to nine, 71-62, but then the Potters made their final bid.

PRENTICE hit again, Cline followed with a two-pointer and McComas scored the final two points that brought the Potters to within three, 71-68.

Three underclassmen paced the Potters, a note that should make Harris happy.

Cline, who had his troubles in the first half, wound up with team scoring honors. After collecting seven points in the first two periods, Cline dropped in 13 points in the second half for a 20-point effort, his best of the season. Cline was also the top man in the rebound department for the Potters with 10.

MCCOMAS also hit a new high with 16 points, including 10 in the second-half drive.

Coming off the bench again to spark the team was Kraft. He turned in a 14-point performance with four field goals and six of 11 fouls.

It was the driving, especially by Kraft and McComas, that opened up the Rider defense and caused Ferry to commit numerous fouls. The Potters shot 37 times from the charity line, making 24.

Prentice and Harriel turned in adequate relief jobs, with Prentice adding seven points and Harriel four.

It was Wacker and Scheehle who gave Ferry a solid one-two punch. Both stood over any Potters on the floor and each contributed 20 points.

Wacker was particularly tough from outside. Rose wound up with 16 points and Larry Fish, another starter, hit the double figures for 11.

Ferry showed a real shooting club. In a 32-minute high school game, the Riders managed to get off 84 shots and made 32 for 38 percent. The Potters shot 61 times and canned 22 for 36.

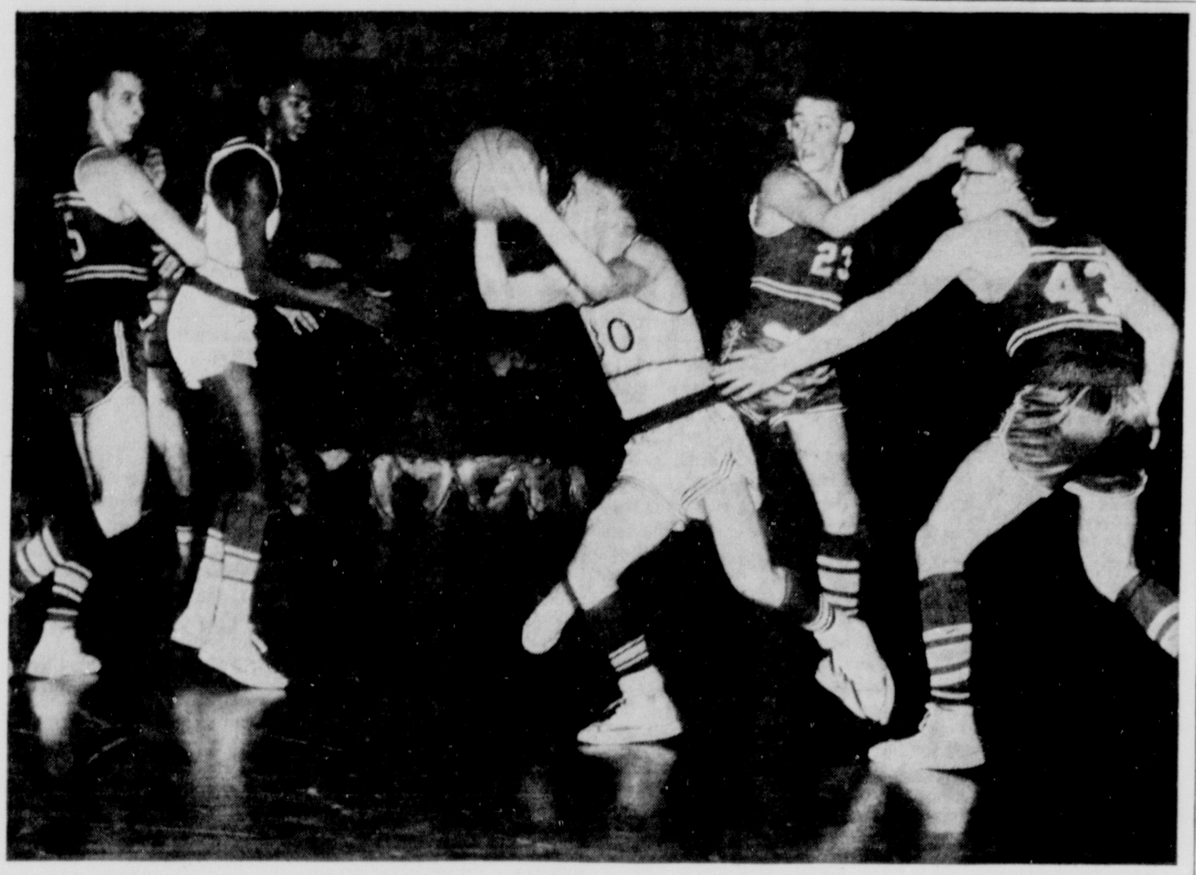

East Liverpool takes a Saturday night off, but has its work cut out next week. Tuesday Wellsville will invade the M-A, followed by Bellaire on Friday and Weirton, West Virginia's second-ranked schoolboy team on Saturday.

Wellsville Fires 50%; Baldwin Scores 23 In 8th Victory

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

In probably their peak performance of the year, Wellsville High's Tigers continued a determined bid to avoid a losing season in crushing Toronto, 76-53, Friday night.

A crowd of 550 looked on at Beacom Memorial gym as the Tigers shot 50 per cent and passed their opponents dizzy in easing to their eighth victory of the season and third in a row.

It was the final game on the home boards for Coach Jack McDevitt's Orange and Black, and the Tiger fans saw a fine exhibition of teamwork and shooting.

Wellsville registered on nine of 18 shots in the first period to grab a commanding 21-7 lead, and the Tigers were never headed or their huge lead threatened after that.

The Tigers flashed a lot more poise and polish in virtually all departments in gaining a repeat victory over their Sectional AA foe. In an early season game at Toronto, the Tigers had difficulty in posting a 56-51 decision.

The Tigers take their 8-9 season record into the season finale Tuesday night against East Liverpool and will be biding to avoid a losing campaign. The battle is set for Memorial Auditorium where Wellsville hasn't posted a victory since the Bevo Francis era of 1951-52.

A win would give them a .500 average for the year, while a loss would bring the first loser for McDevitt since he became head coach in 1957-58. McDevitt shows a 58-42 record to date.

BALDWIN, hitting well from the corners and in close, scored 23 points to lead Wellsville's 30-goal attack.

In strong supporting roles were Nelson with 12 points and a good all-around effort, Ours with 15 and Forrest Harris with 12. Harris fouled out with 1:44 left in the third period.

If there was ever a "drop of genius in a barrel of sweat" it was Toronto's Tom Coulter, a quick - handed 5-8 sophomore guard.

Coulter, who overcame a siege of rheumatic fever as an eighth grader to make the varsity as a frosh, poured in 27 points and kept the Red Knights in the game almost single - handedly.

The red-haired youngster scored 23 of Toronto's 27 points in the first half on a variety of hooks, drive-ins and jump shots. An uncanny foul shooter, he made 7-for-7 for the night.

COACH Paul Kalivoda's Red Knights returned home with a 7-8 record. Like Wellsville, the Knights are underdogs in the Sectional AA tournament opening Feb. 26 at Steubenville Big Red gymnasium.

Toronto fired 32 per cent for the game, hitting 19 of 59 shots. The Tigers hit exactly half of their 60 attempts. They were consistent all the way, dropping in 9 of 18 in the first quarter, 8 of 15 in the second, 9 of 15 in the third and 4 of 12 in the final one.

Wellsville's reserves, who have been cutting quite a figure in the first year of Coach Chick McMillan, won their 11th game, 64-63, in a preliminary thriller decided in one overtime.

Andy Dash, coming through when the pressure was greatest, dropped in two quick field goals in the final stages of the regulation game to bring Wellsville from behind to a 62-60 lead.

—:—

THEN Toronto's Harmon tallied on a drive shot to deadlock the score 62-62, with only six seconds left. Dash fired a desperate set shot at the buzzer but missed and the game headed into a three-minute overtime period.

Dash hit from the pivot area with 2:04 left in the extended period to give the Tigers a 64-62 margin.

Only 19 seconds remained when Mark Leyda fouled Toronto's Hutchinson and the Red Knight cager stepped to the foul line with a one-and-one opportunity and a chance to tie the score.

Hutchinson's first shot dropped through to cut Wellsville's lead to 64-63, but he missed on the second try and there was no more scoring after that.

The defeat was only the second of the year for Toronto's reserves, who fought back from a 13-point deficit in the final quarter to pull even at the end. Dash's 15 points led Wellsville, now 11-4. Don Welch scored 12 in a standout game, while Lester Bennett also tallied 12.

Columbiana Stuns Poland Quint

COLUMBIANA — A crowd of 1,200 saw Columbiana High's Clippers pull a major upset here Friday night in dealing previously unbeaten Poland a 50-49 defeat.

The loss was the first in 16 games for Poland, a squad that was rated 14th in Ohio last week.

Columbiana was on the short end of a 42-38 score after three quarters and battled back to win a squeaker.

The Clippers led by 48-45 with 48 seconds remaining when Bill Murphy hoisted their lead to 50-47 with a field goal.

Then Barnhizer of Poland countered with three seconds remaining to bring the visitors to within one point, 50-49.

Sugar Ray Faces Denny Moyer In TV Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — When Sugar Ray Robinson fights in these twilight years of a great career, the younger generation peeks in so it can say, "I saw him once." The older buffs, who knew him when, want to boast, "I saw the kid's last fight."

Sugar Ray, at 41 more of a waltz king than a toe dancer, does not plan to give the oldtimers a last look for some time to come.

"I won't quit until I win back the middleweight title," said Robinson when asked if he might retire if he lost tonight's rematch with young Denny Moyer at Madison Square Garden.

The 10-round rematch, scheduled for 10 p.m. EST will be carried on ABC television. Two judges and a referee will score it by rounds, using a supplementary point system in case the rounds are even. Robinson is a 2-1 favorite.

Robinson is getting $20,000 and a percentage of the gate.

All Of Indians Now Signed, Paul Reports

CLEVELAND (AP) — General Manager Gabe Paul, who claims he's never had a holdout, reports all his Cleveland Indians are agreed on contracts a full week before spring training opens at Tucson, Ariz.

The last four players settled by telephone Friday. They are pitchers Jim Perry and Don Rudolph, infielder Mike de la Hoz and outfielder Chuck Essegian.

Perry is believed to have taken a slight cut after his 10-17 record last summer.

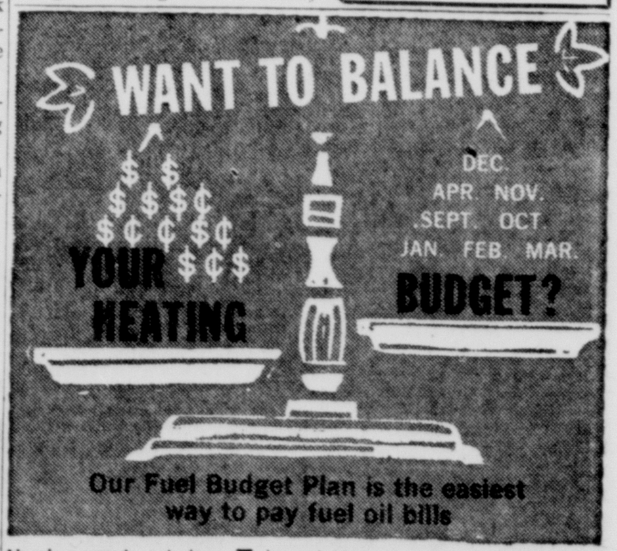

De la hoz, only 22, led the Puerto Rican league in the winter season with .354.

Midland Mauls Riverside, 89-34, To Clinch League Tie

By ANDY NUZO

The Midland Leopards clinched at least a tie for the Section 8 crown when they rolled over the winless Riverside Panthers, 89-34, Friday night at Midland. Monaca kept its title hopes alive by defeating the Beaver Bobcats, 57-52, at Beaver.

The stage is now set for the biggest game of the year in Section 8 play. Midland will envade the small confines of the Monaca gym next Tuesday night in the season finale that is already sold out. Midland has a perfect 13-0 section record. Monaca stands 12-1 in section play.

If Midland should emerge victorious, the Section 8 race would be over, but should Monaca win a play-off game will be necessary to decide the section championship.

Midland already owns two victories over the Indians. Midland defeated Monaca in the first round of section play, 49-46, in an overtime thriller at Midland. In the championship game of the Leopard Holiday Tournament, the Leopards defeated the Indians, 54-43.

To Face Monaca In Showdown

Midland's victory Friday night tied the school record for the most games won in one season—23—a mark set by the 1954-55 squad of George Hamilton, who had a 23-2 mark. Midland has a two-year winning streak of 26 games and if they should defeat Monaca Tuesday they will be the first Midland squad to go undefeated through a regular season.

Friday night the Leopards jumped off to a quick 21-7 first quarter lead, increased it to 46-15 at the half and 66-26 at the three quarter pole.

The Midland regulars retired to the shower room at the start of the final period, but the second-stringers did not let up as they outscored Riverside, 23-8, in the final stanza.

Al Aloi led the Leopards once again, meshing eight fielders and four of seven free throws for 20 points. Sam Forester turned in another fine job around the boards and came up with 14 markers. Substitute guard George Drakulich added 12 points to the Leopard cause.

Russ Clyde was high for Riverside with eight markers.

Midland shot a hot 53 per cent, sinking 38 of 72 attempts. Riverside sank only 10 of 52 shots for a miserable 19 per cent.

Midland had the edge in rebounding, 49-40. Forester and Sallis led the Leopards with 10 rebounds apiece. George Kotuby led Riverside, pulling down eight strays.

In the preliminary game, Ed Olkowski's Midland JV's rolled to an easy 79-18 rout of the Riverside JV squad. Rod Alston and Gary Shannon led the Leopard JV's, who shot a torrid 57 per cent, with 18 and 16 points respectively.

Greenford led from the outset and had doubled the score by the end of three quarters, 46-21.

Dick Arnold pumped in 21 points and two other starters hit in double figures to lead the winners. Jack Baker, high-scoring Indian, led the losers with 17 points.

Robison's Team Posts 14-6 Record; Turns To Tourney Play

Dave Bell and his Newell High teammates closed out the 1961-62 season with a rush in conquering Malvern, 93-62, Friday night on the Wells High court.

The victory gave Coach John Robison one of his best seasons in several years leaving the Vikings with a 14-6 record.

Bell, the 5-foot-9 guard who has been averaging well over 30 points in his last seven games, bombed the nets again last night for 35 markers.

This sent his total zooming to 471 points for 20 regular season games and gave him an average of 23.5 per game. Although he is ahead of Stanton Local's Don (The Stilt) Spires in total points, Spires only played in 18 games and he has the better average of 25.5 from a total of 460.

HITTING on his southpaw jump shot from far out and close in, along with some driving efforts, Bell tallied 13 field goals and nine charity tosses.

His running mate in the scoring department Mick Staley, the 6-foot-2 senior, fired in 18 points to give him 452 points for the season and an average of 22.6 per contest. Staley finished third in the district scoring race.

After a 20-10 first quarter lead, Robison's forces forged in front, 37-24, at halftime and 61-38 at the close of the third period.

The victory was one of revenge for Malvern defeated Newell two weeks ago at Malvern.

BEHIND BELL and Staley was Jim Reed who plunked in 14 points for the Vikings.

Malvern's Osturchvic fired in 17 and Pucci added 16 to be top guns for the visitors.

Newell now looks ahead to Section 1 tourney play at Follansbee High gym next Thursday when the Vikings meet Bethany in the first game at 7 p.m.

New Cumberland battles West Liberty in the second contest and the championship tilt is set for next Saturday at 8 p.m.

South Side High's Rams saw their attack falter in the second half and it resulted in a 41-33 defeat at Burgettstown Friday night.

Coach Dave Nichol's charges led at the first two quarter breaks, then fell behind by the margin of one field goal at the end of three periods.

Burgettstown posted the slim victory behind the scoring of Delmontagne who tallied 17 points, and Bednarcik, with 11. Mervosh also hit in double figures with 10.

Steady Dale Ashcroft led the Rams with 13 points. Cecil Frazier hit eight and Dawson, seven.

The Rams now stand at 8-14 and conclude their season in entertaining McGuffey Joint Tuesday night in a Section 15 battle.

Jones To Remain At Salineville As History Teacher

Tom Leek, Salineville High School principal, said today Richard Jones had submitted a resignation as football coach prior to a special meeting of the Southern Local Board of Education Thursday night.

Because of a mixup in the administration office, Leek said the resignation of the former West Liberty State Teachers College athlete had not been turned over to the board at the special meeting.

In his letter dated Thursday, Jones indicated he waanted to give up his athletic post but would remain on the faculty as history teacher.

The board named a committee to recommend a successor to Jones. It includes Charles Allison and Miss Ruth McNichol, board members; Jack Baker, executive head; Leek, and Eugene Jarvis, former Booster Club president.

Panthers Score 61-44 Decision Against West Liberty

Jerry Smith, a 5-foot-10 guard, went on a 29-point scoring spree to lead his Chester mates past West Liberty, 61-44, Friday night on the Panthers' home court.

Smith, the team's leading scorer, fired in 12 buckets and five fouls to help stake Coach Max Tuttle's team to its ninth victory against 10 setbacks. The Panthers will be given an opportunity to finish with a .500 mark if they can come up with a win Tuesday at Follansbee.

The finest quarter for Smith was the second period when he tallied 11 points which sparked the Panthers to a 29-15 halftime edge. Chester was in front at the third quarter mark, 48-29.

While the victory was enjoyed by Tuttle, the veteran mentor was without the services of veteran Blaine Pinney who has developed a knee injury which came in the Newell game last Tuesday.

It is doubtful if Pinney will be ready to play next week.

Behind Smith in the scoring column was Keith Sayre who hit for 14 points.

Standley and Rinehart were the two big guns for West Liberty with 13 and 12 points respectively.

In the preliminary contest, the Chester freshmen knocked over the Wellsville frosh, 37-27.

To Face Monaca In Showdown

By ANDY NUZO

The Midland Leopards clinched at least a tie for the Section 8 crown when they rolled over the winless Riverside Panthers, 89-34, Friday night at Midland. Monaca kept its title hopes alive by defeating the Beaver Bobcats, 57-52, at Beaver.

The stage is now set for the biggest game of the year in Section 8 play. Midland will envade the small confines of the Monaca gym next Tuesday night in the season finale that is already sold out. Midland has a perfect 13-0 section record. Monaca stands 12-1 in section play.

If Midland should emerge victorious, the Section 8 race would be over, but should Monaca win a play-off game will be necessary to decide the section championship.

Midland already owns two victories over the Indians. Midland defeated Monaca in the first round of section play, 49-46, in an overtime thriller at Midland. In the championship game of the Leopard Holiday Tournament, the Leopards defeated the Indians, 54-43.

Midland's victory Friday night tied the school record for the most games won in one season—23—a mark set by the 1954-55 squad of George Hamilton, who had a 23-2 mark. Midland has a two-year winning streak of 26 games and if they should defeat Monaca Tuesday they will be the first Midland squad to go undefeated through a regular season.

Friday night the Leopards jumped off to a quick 21-7 first quarter lead, increased it to 46-15 at the half and 66-26 at the three quarter pole.

The Midland regulars retired to the shower room at the start of the final period, but the second-stringers did not let up as they outscored Riverside, 23-8, in the final stanza.

Al Aloi led the Leopards once again, meshing eight fielders and four of seven free throws for 20 points. Sam Forester turned in another fine job around the boards and came up with 14 markers. Substitute guard George Drakulich added 12 points to the Leopard cause.

Russ Clyde was high for Riverside with eight markers.

Midland shot a hot 53 per cent, sinking 38 of 72 attempts. Riverside sank only 10 of 52 shots for a miserable 19 per cent.

Midland had the edge in rebounding, 49-40. Forester and Sallis led the Leopards with 10 rebounds apiece. George Kotuby led Riverside, pulling down eight strays.

In the preliminary game, Ed Olkowski's Midland JV's rolled to an easy 79-18 rout of the Riverside JV squad. Rod Alston and Gary Shannon led the Leopard JV's, who shot a torrid 57 per cent, with 18 and 16 points respectively.

Robison's Team Posts 14-6 Record; Turns To Tourney Play

Dave Bell and his Newell High teammates closed out the 1961-62 season with a rush in conquering Malvern, 93-62, Friday night on the Wells High court.

The victory gave Coach John Robison one of his best seasons in several years leaving the Vikings with a 14-6 record.

Bell, the 5-foot-9 guard who has been averaging well over 30 points in his last seven games, bombed the nets again last night for 35 markers.

This sent his total zooming to 471 points for 20 regular season games and gave him an average of 23.5 per game. Although he is ahead of Stanton Local's Don (The Stilt) Spires in total points, Spires only played in 18 games and he has the better average of 25.5 from a total of 460.

His running mate in the scoring department Mick Staley, the 6-foot-2 senior, fired in 18 points to give him 452 points for the season and an average of 22.6 per contest. Staley finished third in the district scoring race.

After a 20-10 first quarter lead, Robison's forces forged in front, 37-24, at halftime and 61-38 at the close of the third period.

The victory was one of revenge for Malvern defeated Newell two weeks ago at Malvern.

BEHIND BELL and Staley was Jim Reed who plunked in 14 points for the Vikings.

Malvern's Osturchvic fired in 17 and Pucci added 16 to be top guns for the visitors.

Newell now looks ahead to Section 1 tourney play at Follansbee High gym next Thursday when the Vikings meet Bethany in the first game at 7 p.m.

New Cumberland battles West Liberty in the second contest and the championship tilt is set for next Saturday at 8 p.m.

South Siders Lose 14th At Burgettstown, 41-33

South Side High's Rams saw their attack falter in the second half and it resulted in a 41-33 defeat at Burgettstown Friday night.

Coach Dave Nichol's charges led at the first two quarter breaks, then fell behind by the margin of one field goal at the end of three periods.

Burgettstown posted the slim victory behind the scoring of Delmontagne who tallied 17 points, and Bednarcik, with 11. Mervosh also hit in double figures with 10.

Jerry Smith, a 5-foot-10 guard, went on a 29-point scoring spree to lead his Chester mates past West Liberty, 61-44, Friday night on the Panthers' home court.

Smith, the team's leading scorer, fired in 12 buckets and five fouls to help stake Coach Max Tuttle's team to its ninth victory against 10 setbacks. The Panthers will be given an opportunity to finish with a .500 mark if they can come up with a win Tuesday at Follansbee.

The finest quarter for Smith was the second period when he tallied 11 points which sparked the Panthers to a 29-15 halftime edge. Chester was in front at the third quarter mark, 48-29.

While the victory was enjoyed by Tuttle, the veteran mentor was without the services of veteran Blaine Pinney who has developed a knee injury which came in the Newell game last Tuesday.

It is doubtful if Pinney will be ready to play next week.

Behind Smith in the scoring column was Keith Sayre who hit for 14 points.

Standley and Rinehart were the two big guns for West Liberty with 13 and 12 points respectively.

In the preliminary contest, the Chester freshmen knocked over the Wellsville frosh, 37-27.

Jones To Remain At Salineville As History Teacher

Tom Leek, Salineville High School principal, said today Richard Jones had submitted a resignation as football coach prior to a special meeting of the Southern Local Board of Education Thursday night.

Because of a mixup in the administration office, Leek said the resignation of the former West Liberty State Teachers College athlete had not been turned over to the board at the special meeting.

In his letter dated Thursday, Jones indicated he waanted to give up his athletic post but would remain on the faculty as history teacher.

The board named a committee to recommend a successor to Jones. It includes Charles Allison and Miss Ruth McNichol, board members; Jack Baker, executive head; Leek, and Eugene Jarvis, former Booster Club president.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Youths Need Definite Work Rules

Anybody knows that the more attractive to a child any job or activity is the harder he will work at it, whether it be learning to spell a number of words, practicing a music lesson or doing a chore. So a strongly prevailing theory of education has been: Make attractive to the child everything you want him to learn and every job about the home you want him to do. Conflicting with an effort to make all such activities attractive is the lure of other things the child would rather do — going out to play or viewing TV when a chore, music practice or homework is supposed to be done. Also, there often comes the time when the initial interest in the activity wanes and the need for effort increase in order to go on.

THERE'S NOTHING wrong about trying to make such things attractive to the child, but a lot is wrong if we hope we can nearly always make them attractive by little tricks or magic.

As a rule, the child needs to know that the job must be done and at a certain, more or less regular time. Its very inevitability renders it less repellent. Its high grade completion can make the job less distasteful, even attractive.

Suppose your child at ten is required to practice regularly on a musical instrument 20 minutes daily. If he can't escape the practice he may begin to see some gains in successes.

These gains will be the most potent force in giving this child satisfaction and causing him to exert more effort.

THERE ARE hundreds of learning situations in which the child needs to be required to go at a job or learning activity, keep at it for a reasonable time and stay at it over a long enough period to win success.

It's the success which will essentially be the reward, rendering the activity less repellent or more attractive.

This is something which parents and educators generally have overlooked.

We might add that, once the child goes at the required job or learning activity, his success may be enhanced with resulting satisfaction to him by encouragement or occasional help.

For example, a boy's dad might well surprise him once in a while by helping this boy scrub the floor or wash the dishes; or by offering just the right suggestion to assist him at a hard place in his homework.

My bulletins, "Celebrate Your Child's Successes" and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility", may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

State Liquor Board Lists 4 Area Permit Applications

One application is on file for a liquor permit in East Liverpool and three are on file in Wellsville, the Ohio Department of Liquor Control announced today.

Pete Commarata has filed for a D-3 permit for sale of wine and liquor for consumption on premises, and N. J. Rivelle, Mary L. Thornton and Rose Daddario have filed for similar permits in Wellsville. There are no present openings under the quota system.

There is one opening in East Liverpool for a D-1 permit, sale of beer for consumption off and on prenises. The quota is 15. The quota of 22 is filled for D-3 permits — sale of beer, wine and cocktails — as are quotas of 11 each for D-3, D-4 (private clubs) and D-5 (liquor sales until 2:30 a. m.)

At Wellsville, Steve Sfakis has applied for the one D-1 permit opening. The quota is seven. All other quotas are filled.

Emory Torrence has applied for a D-1 permit at East Palestine, and Frank Howard has applied for a D-3 permit. All quotas are filled.

At Lisbon, Daniel Guappone has filed for a D-3 permit, and American Legion Post 275 filed for a D-4 permit. Quotas are filled.

At Leetonia, Carmen Ferry has filed for a D-3 permit and American Legion Post 131 has filed for a D-4 permit. Quotas are filled.

Openings throughout the area include one D-1 permit in East Liverpool, one D-1 and two D-2 permits at Salineville, one D-1 and one D-2 permit at Rogers, three D-1 and two D-2 permits at Lisbon, one D-1, one D-2 and one D-3 permit at New Waterford; three D-1 permits at Hanoverton and one D-1 and one D-2 permit at Summitville.

3 Killed, 1 Injured When Car Rams Pole

MARION, Ohio (AP)—The lone survivors of an automobile crash which claimed three lives near here Friday is reported in critical condition in Mount Carmel Hospital at Columbus.

He is Jack Fix, 23, of Richwood.

The three Marion County men killed were Robert E. Wilson, 22, of Marion; Thomas Benson, 22, of Rt. 2, LaRue, and Joseph Lee Curtis, 32, of near Green Camp.

Highway patrolmen said the group, in Wilson's car, apparently were headed from Marion to the B. F. Goodrich plant in green Camp where Wilson, Benson and Curtis were employed.

The car failed to make a curve on Ohio 739 about three miles southeast of here and smashed into a utility pole.

Adopt Master Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Provisions to enable future modification were made Friday by Ohio State University trustees as they adopted the proposed master plan for campus development. The plan is based on concepts of a unified academic community, centered around the Olentangy River.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Edward C. Brown who passed away two years ago today, February 17, 1960. Two years today God took our Pop away To join his heavenly band. He could not speak to say Goodbye, we could but hold his hand. But from his world of darkness and pain we knew he's understand How very great our grief was, as he went to the promised land. When our work on earth is over And our time shall be no more We know that he'll be waiting, to meet us on that distant shore.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Youths Need Definite Work Rules

Anybody knows that the more attractive to a child any job or activity is the harder he will work at it, whether it be learning to spell a number of words, practicing a music lesson or doing a chore. So a strongly prevailing theory of education has been: Make attractive to the child everything you want him to learn and every job about the home you want him to do. Conflicting with an effort to make all such activities attractive is the lure of other things the child would rather do — going out to play or viewing TV when a chore, music practice or homework is supposed to be done. Also, there often comes the time when the initial interest in the activity wanes and the need for effort increase in order to go on.

THERE'S NOTHING wrong about trying to make such things attractive to the child, but a lot is wrong if we hope we can nearly always make them attractive by little tricks or magic.

As a rule, the child needs to know that the job must be done and at a certain, more or less regular time. Its very inevitability renders it less repellent. Its high grade completion can make the job less distasteful, even attractive.

Suppose your child at ten is required to practice regularly on a musical instrument 20 minutes daily. If he can't escape the practice he may begin to see some gains in successes.

These gains will be the most potent force in giving this child satisfaction and causing him to exert more effort.

THERE ARE hundreds of learning situations in which the child needs to be required to go at a job or learning activity, keep at it for a reasonable time and stay at it over a long enough period to win success.

It's the success which will essentially be the reward, rendering the activity less repellent or more attractive.

This is something which parents and educators generally have overlooked.

We might add that, once the child goes at the required job or learning activity, his success may be enhanced with resulting satisfaction to him by encouragement or occasional help.

For example, a boy's dad might well surprise him once in a while by helping this boy scrub the floor or wash the dishes; or by offering just the right suggestion to assist him at a hard place in his homework.

My bulletins, "Celebrate Your Child's Successes" and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility", may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

State Liquor Board Lists 4 Area Permit Applications

One application is on file for a liquor permit in East Liverpool and three are on file in Wellsville, the Ohio Department of Liquor Control announced today.

Pete Commarata has filed for a D-3 permit for sale of wine and liquor for consumption on premises, and N. J. Rivelle, Mary L. Thornton and Rose Daddario have filed for similar permits in Wellsville. There are no present openings under the quota system.

There is one opening in East Liverpool for a D-1 permit, sale of beer for consumption off and on premises. The quota is 15. The quota of 22 is filled for D-3 permits — sale of beer, wine and cocktails — as are quotas of 11 each for D-3, D-4 (private clubs) and D-5 (liquor sales until 2:30 a. m.)

At Wellsville, Steve Sfakis has applied for the one D-1 permit opening. The quota is seven. All other quotas are filled.

Emory Torrence has applied for a D-1 permit at East Palestine, and Frank Howard has applied for a D-3 permit. All quotas are filled.

At Lisbon, Daniel Guappone has filed for a D-3 permit, and American Legion Post 275 filed for a D-4 permit. Quotas are filled.

At Leetonia, Carmen Ferry has filed for a D-3 permit and American Legion Post 131 has filed for a D-4 permit. Quotas are filled.

Openings throughout the area include one D-1 permit in East Liverpool, one D-1 and two D-2 permits at Salineville, one D-1 and one D-2 permit at Rogers, three D-1 and two D-2 permits at Lisbon, one D-1, one D-2 and one D-3 permit at New Waterford; three D-1 permits at Hanoverton and one D-1 and one D-2 permit at Summitville.

3 Killed, 1 Injured When Car Rams Pole

MARION, Ohio (AP)—The lone survivors of an automobile crash which claimed three lives near here Friday is reported in critical condition in Mount Carmel Hospital at Columbus.

He is Jack Fix, 23, of Richwood.

The three Marion County men killed were Robert E. Wilson, 22, of Marion; Thomas Benson, 22, of Rt. 2, LaRue, and Joseph Lee Curtis, 32, of near Green Camp.

Highway patrolmen said the group, in Wilson's car, apparently were headed from Marion to the B. F. Goodrich plant in green Camp where Wilson, Benson and Curtis were employed.

The car failed to make a curve on Ohio 739 about three miles southeast of here and smashed into a utility pole.

Adopt Master Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Provisions to enable future modification were made Friday by Ohio State University trustees as they adopted the proposed master plan for campus development. The plan is based on concepts of a unified academic community, centered around the Olentangy River.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Edward C. Brown who passed away two years ago today, February 17, 1960.
Two years today God took our Pop away To join his heavenly band. He could not speak to say Goodbye, we could but hold his hand. But from his world of darkness and pain we knew he's understand How very great our grief was, as he went to the promised land. When our work on earth is over And our time shall be no more We know that he'll be waiting, to meet us on that distant shore.

"EMPTY"
THIS IS BAD. YET! IT'S GOOD.

It's BAD because this is a GOOD SOUND home, being well built, having withstood YEARS of all KINDS of WEATHER. It's GOOD, because anyone wanting or needing a GOOD HOME can see all the DEFECTS and FAULTS (IF ANY) by no furniture and rugs to help distract one's inspection.

This house has only had two tenants since it was built. It has two nice bedrooms and bath. Large livingroom with FIREPLACE, dining room and kitchen, enclosed front porch, good dry basement with a GOOD hot water HEATING SYSTEM. Also a single car garage. Price $8,000.

This home is NOW Vacant. The owners will listen to any REASONABLE OFFER. Best of all it is CLOSE TO TOWN, less than 10 minutes walk to the diamond. It can be bought on LAND CONTRACT to the RIGHT PARTY.

"EMPTY"
THIS IS BAD. YET! IT'S GOOD.

It's BAD because this is a GOOD SOUND home, being well built, having withstood YEARS of all KINDS of WEATHER. It's GOOD, because anyone wanting or needing a GOOD HOME can see all the DEFECTS and FAULTS (IF ANY) by no furniture and rugs to help distract one's inspection.

This house has only had two tenants since it was built. It has two nice bedrooms and bath. Large livingroom with FIREPLACE, dining room and kitchen, enclosed front porch, good dry basement with a GOOD hot water HEATING SYSTEM. Also a single car garage. Price $8,000.

This home is NOW Vacant. The owners will listen to any REASONABLE OFFER. Best of all it is CLOSE TO TOWN, less than 10 minutes walk to the diamond. It can be bought on LAND CONTRACT to the RIGHT PARTY.

"Maybe we should buy him a dog."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a candle fit firmly into a too-large holder?

A. Burn down an old candle stub — or a half-inch from the bottom of the new one — in the holder. Next, press the heat-softened bottom of the new candle firmly down on the still-burning stub. The candle will then adhere to its new holder-fitting base.

Q. How can I prevent my homemade syrup from candying after it has stood for awhile?

A. By adding a teaspoonful of vinegar to it.

Q. How can I shrink colored cottons and linens?

A. Soak in cold water for several hours, then squeeze out the water, but don't wring the material. Hang on clothesline, or if you have an automatic dryer, dry it in this machine with several dry Turkish towels that will buffer the fabric as it tumble-dries. Buy non-shrunk cottons and linens with the foreknowledge that these materials will shrink anywhere from one to three inches per yard.

Q. What can I do about the bacon drippings in my oven?

A. Turn off the pilot light, place a bowl of ammonia inside the oven, and close the door. The ammonia fumes will loosen the charred drippings and make your oven much easier to clean.

Q. How can I prevent the starch from being blown out of freshly-laundered clothes when drying them outside on a windy day?

A. Try adding a little salt to your starch.

Q. How can I take proper care of a chamois that has been used for cleaning windows or washing the car?

A. Rinse the chamois out at least three times, shake well, and hang up to dry. Pull and shake it several times while drying, and this will keep it soft. The chamois should dry slowly and never in the sun.

Junior Editors Quiz on GYPSIES

QUESTION: Do gypsies have a nationality?

ANSWER: No one is absolutely sure where the original gypsies came from. Most agree, however, that they probably came from India. Gypsies are nomadic people, or people who wander about and have no fixed home. After many centuries they began to settle down, and they took on the nationality of the country where they settled. They are called gypsies because centuries ago, when asked what their nationality was, they replied that their country was called "Little Egypt," and in time people referred to them as Egyptians, and then finally shortened this name to Gypsies. There are fewer wandering gypsies today than there were in ages past, because most gypsies have settled into communities all over the world, including the United States and become just like their neighbors. The early gypsies, though, were a gay and lighthearted folk, singing and dancing in their camps. They traveled in tribes and usually lived in tents. Their tattered clothing was colorful and bright. The men earned their living by metal work or horse trading, and the women told fortunes. They spoke Romany, a combination of the Indian language Sanskrit and languages of countries where they lived.

FOR YOU TO DO: Gypsies are considered some of the world's best musicians. Ask someone to play some gypsy music for you. As you listen to the gay, lilting tunes and the mournful ones, try to imagine gypsies camping in the woods, singing and dancing.

Walter E. Gregg and Charles L. Smith, both of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., have been elected directors of the United Funds of Beaver County.

Gregg was one of six members-at-large elected. His term will expire in February, 1965.

Smith was named an area representative to fill a vacancy expiring next February.

Supt. Ralph H. Jewell of Midland schools served on the nominating committee which reported at the annual meeting Wednesday. James A. Dunn of Ambridge was re-elected president.

During the session, the Midland Borough government was lauded as one of 39 groups which achieved an increase of 10 per cent or more in its fair share standard.

Schools To Try New TV Facility

Testing of facilities termed the first educational television operation in West Virginia has been launched by the C. & S. Television Co. of Chester.

Don Chaney and Robert Burch of the firm said the WQED Channel 13 telecasts from Pittsburgh are being transferred to Channel 75 by the new facility and will enable schools in the valley to obtain educational programs previously unavailable because of reception difficulties.

Chaney, whose firm operates a commercial television antenna service in Chester, servicing through lead-in wires, said the new facility is wireless.

The programs on the new system are available on any set with built-in UHF equipment or a converter may be obtained.

Chaney said Harry Wagaman, audio-visual and television education director for Hancock County schools, Thursday indicated a television set will be provided for a grade school in Chester to test reception. Chaney says he plans to meet with Ralph Betts, East Liverpool school superintendent, next week to outline the details of the facility.

Weirton and Pughtown schools are already utilizing broadcasts direct from Pittsburgh.

3 Summer Homes Destroyed By Fire

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Three summer homes on Oak Street in Lakeside's Methodist resort area were destroyed by fire Friday night. Fire Chief Leroy Leubcke estimated loss at $25,000.

The cottages destroyed belonged to James Edward of Leipsic, Clarence Meister of Marion, and Peter Merkle of Milford Center, the chief said.

Joseph Kearns, Television Star, Claimed At 55

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Joseph S. Kearns, 55, the harassed Mr. Wilson on the "Dennis the Menace" television series, died today.

His doctor said Kearns had a cerebral hemorrhage. He had entered the Park View Hospital Sunday after suddenly going into a coma.

Only Sunday Mr. Wilson had jokingly willed his gold watch to Dennis because he thought Dennis was in ill health. The program had been filmed prior to Kearns' illness.

Kearns was a veteran character actor and was a frequent participant on the Jack Benny shows and had been heard as the signature voice on "Suspense." He also had appeared on radio's Lux Theatre.

In recent years, he had appeared frequently on the Danny Thomas show and the "How to Marry a Millionaire" TV series.

Dennis' mother, Mrs. Betty North, said her son, Jay, would be heartbroken by Kearns' death.

"Jay called him Uncle Joe," she said. "We will try to keep it from Jay immediately because they are shooting now."

Kearns was born at Salt Lake City, Utah, on Feb. 12, 1907 and started his show business career in radio.

Murder Trial Set In March

Elijah Jack Farnsworth of Wellsville is scheduled to go on trial early in March on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Elliott L. Lyons, 78, of Parkersburg in December.

He is accused of using a hatchet to bludgeon the elderly Parkersburg resident, who lived in a converted bus south of the Little Kanawha River.

The Wood County Sheriff's office indicated the pair argued over a stove. The victim died in a Columbus hospital about a week after the assault.

Farnsworth was indicted by the Wood County Grand Jury Jan. 23 on a charge of murder, and entered a plea of innocent when arraigned in Parkersburg Jan. 26.

Mary Potts Reese of Wellsville and Leatha Owens of Parkersburg were originally charged with aiding and abetting felonious assault, but have been placed under bond as witnesses for the prosecution.

Farnsworth remains in jail in Parkersburg. He was arrested at Wellsville and was held in Columbiana County Jail in Lisbon with Mrs. Reese before they were extradited to West Virginia.

Two hundred seventy-six million pounds of honey were produced in the United States in 1961.

A 2-year-old girl is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with burns suffered when her clothing caught fire at home Friday night.

Ruby Wiseman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wiseman, 1010 Waterloo St., was admitted at 8:40 p.m. with third degree burns of the arms, back and abdomen. Her dress was ignited by the flames of a bathroom stove.

Two children and a man injured in falls and another man hurt while working were treated at the hospital yesterday.

2 From Crucible Named As United Fund Directors

Walter E. Gregg and Charles L. Smith, both of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., have been elected directors of the United Funds of Beaver County.

Gregg was one of six members-at-large elected. His term will expire in February, 1965.

Smith was named an area representative to fill a vacancy expiring next February.

Supt. Ralph H. Jewell of Midland schools served on the nominating committee which reported at the annual meeting Wednesday. James A. Dunn of Ambridge was re-elected president.

During the session, the Midland Borough government was lauded as one of 39 groups which achieved an increase of 10 per cent or more in its fair share standard.

Schools To Try New TV Facility

Testing of facilities termed the first educational television operation in West Virginia has been launched by the C. & S. Television Co. of Chester.

Don Chaney and Robert Burch of the firm said the WQED Channel 13 telecasts from Pittsburgh are being transferred to Channel 75 by the new facility and will enable schools in the valley to obtain educational programs previously unavailable because of reception difficulties.

Chaney, whose firm operates a commercial television antenna service in Chester, servicing through lead-in wires, said the new facility is wireless.

The programs on the new system are available on any set with built-in UHF equipment or a converter may be obtained.

Chaney said Harry Wagaman, audio-visual and television education director for Hancock County schools, Thursday indicated a television set will be provided for a grade school in Chester to test reception. Chaney says he plans to meet with Ralph Betts, East Liverpool school superintendent, next week to outline the details of the facility.

Weirton and Pughtown schools are already utilizing broadcasts direct from Pittsburgh.

3 Summer Homes Destroyed By Fire

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Three summer homes on Oak Street in Lakeside's Methodist resort area were destroyed by fire Friday night. Fire Chief Leroy Leubcke estimated loss at $25,000.

The chief said he did not determine the cause, but the blaze appeared to have started near a fuel tank between two cottages.

Joseph Kearns, Television Star, Claimed At 55

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Joseph S. Kearns, 55, the harassed Mr. Wilson on the "Dennis the Menace" television series, died today.

His doctor said Kearns had a cerebral hemorrhage. He had entered the Park View Hospital Sunday after suddenly going into a coma.

Only Sunday Mr. Wilson had jokingly willed his gold watch to Dennis because he thought Dennis was in ill health. The program had been filmed prior to Kearns' illness.

Kearns was a veteran character actor and was a frequent participant on the Jack Benny shows and had been heard as the signature voice on "Suspense." He also had appeared on radio's Lux Theatre.

In recent years, he had appeared frequently on the Danny Thomas show and the "How to Marry a Millionaire" TV series.

Dennis' mother, Mrs. Betty North, said her son, Jay, would be heartbroken by Kearns' death.

"Jay called him Uncle Joe," she said. "We will try to keep it from Jay immediately because they are shooting now."

Kearns was born at Salt Lake City, Utah, on Feb. 12, 1907 and started his show business career in radio.

Murder Trial Set In March

Elijah Jack Farnsworth of Wellsville is scheduled to go on trial early in March on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Elliott L. Lyons, 78, of Parkersburg in December.

He is accused of using a hatchet to bludgeon the elderly Parkersburg resident, who lived in a converted bus south of the Little Kanawha River.

The Wood County Sheriff's office indicated the pair argued over a stove. The victim died in a Columbus hospital about a week after the assault.

Farnsworth was indicted by the Wood County Grand Jury Jan. 23 on a charge of murder, and entered a plea of innocent when arraigned in Parkersburg Jan. 26.

Mary Potts Reese of Wellsville and Leatha Owens of Parkersburg were originally charged with aiding and abetting felonious assault, but have been placed under bond as witnesses for the prosecution.

Farnsworth remains in jail in Parkersburg. He was arrested at Wellsville and was held in Columbiana County Jail in Lisbon with Mrs. Reese before they were extradited to West Virginia.

George Washington's Wisdom for Today

His simple words offer Americans of 1962 the same inspiration they did our forefathers nearly two centuries ago

■ GEORGE WASHINGTON, whose 230th birthday we celebrate Thursday, devoted most of his life to the service of his country. When he finally achieved his long-awaited retirement, he returned to his beloved Mount Vernon. Three years later, in 1799, after riding in rain and snow on a husbandman's errand, he suffered an attack of quinsy and laryngitis. Doctors bled him four times, according to the best medical practices of the day, and his strength sank rapidly. Two days later he was dead. His physician stopped the ticking of the clock in the death chamber. The hands stood at 10:20 p.m. Never stilled, though, were the written words Washington left his countrymen. Even today these words speak to Americans with wisdom in a time of confusion and assurance in a time of doubt.

What goal should Americans seek?

"Impress upon the mind of every man, from the first to the lowest, the importance of the cause and what it is they are contending for."

Can democracy work?

"It is to be regretted, I confess, that the democratical states must always feel before they can see—it is this that makes their governments slow—but the people will be right at last . . .

"I am sure the mass of citizens in these United States . . . will always act well whenever they can obtain a right understanding . . . but it is on great occasions only after time has been given for cool and deliberate reflection, that the real voice of the people can be known."

What do we need to remain strong in purpose?

"Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, Religion and Morality are indispensable supports . . . And let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion."

What is education's place in democracy?

"Knowledge is in every country the surest basis of public happiness . . . I conceive a knowledge of books as the basis upon which other knowledge is to be built."

National debt—can it be worthwhile?

"Cherish public credit . . . Use it sparingly as possible, avoiding occasions of expense by cultivating peace, but remembering also that timely disbursement to prepare for danger frequently prevents much greater disbursement to repel it."

Not every American agrees with American laws. What should we do?

"There never was a law yet made that hit the taste exactly of every man or every part of the community . . .

"Let the reins of government be braced and held with a steady hand, and every violation of the Constitution reprehended. If defective, let it be amended, but not suffered to be trampled upon whilst it has an existence."

What about foreign countries with different forms of government than ours?

"Every nation has a right to establish that form of government under which it conceives it shall live most happy; provided it infracts no right or is not dangerous to others; and that no government ought to interfere with the internal concerns of another, except for the security of what is due to themselves."

These are belligerent days. How should we react?

"My first wish is to see this plague of mankind (war) banished off the earth, and the sons and daughters of this world employed in more pleasant and innocent amusements than in preparing implements and exercising them for the destruction of mankind . . .

"(But) if we desire to avoid insult, we must be able to repel it. If we desire peace . . . it must be known that we are at all times ready for War."

Nowhere—not even in Tucson and Phoenix—is there the brilliant sunshine and healthy climate that blesses southwest New Mexico. And, whereas, the price of a rich piece of land near the larger cities is beyond the means of most of us, you can still buy a Ranchette in the Deming region for only pennies a day.

DEMING RANCHETTES lies directly on great U.S. 80, is rich in soil and pure in water; still a half-acre here is only $199 complete, $5 down—$5 a month. In neighboring Las Cruces land such as this is selling for 10 times this price! Yet Deming, its valley nestled alongside the breath-taking Florida Mountains, is every bit as beautiful, every bit as sunny and healthy. To show you what we're talking about we want to send you FREE our thick portfolio containing facts, maps, and actual 4 color photographs. No obligation, no salesman will call. See for yourself. Remember: it's FREE. Simply fill out the coupon.

"WOULD YOU GIVE good home to gentle, loving 3-year-old Germ. Shep.?"

The advertisement has been appearing in the newspaper. The Germ. Shep. is my Silver Spade of Rocky Ridge, who is far less imposing than his name. He gets carsick now and then. He gets terrified of storms and loud noises. He gets numerous fictitious complaints which increase in direct ratio to my sympathy.

He steps on my feet and runs into trees. He is unable to distinguish between friend and foe and, not willing to err in the wrong direction, treats both with enthusiastic adoration.

He made one other, more serious mistake. He discovered the delight of following stray dogs off into the wide world. He forgot to come home.

It is a poor thing to spend hours looking for a lost dog. One becomes exasperated, cross, hot, and tired. It is also a poor thing to discover that same paragon of dogdom is abhorred by half the neighborhood, suffering from broken fences, trampled hedges, and irate dispositions.

So Spade has been offered to the kindest face willing to take him in.

At least 50 kind faces have qualified. The telephone has been ringing at midnight and dawn. Strangers have come from near and far. All this time, Spade has stayed quietly home, speaking when spoken to, sitting on command, extending a limp paw at one and all, and disdaining stray dogs.

The only problem has been to decide which new owner he was to have.

Spade decided himself. Last night, after the last prodder and poker had gone, he looked up in my face with his sad brown eyes. Then he went into his doghouse and cried himself to sleep.

I took the advertisement out of the newspaper today. I took the telephone off the hook.

I took Spade out of the doghouse and shed a tear on his collar. I know who will give him a good home. Me.

The lady has kept her wedding dress
Salted away with rose sachet,
It hangs pristine in the closet.

And her spouse still has his wedding suit,
Though sentimental reasons
Don't enter in. No, that suit has been
His best through all these seasons!

After a long wait, a young couple finally got word from the adoption agency that a child was available. They happily picked up a four-year-old boy and brought him to a home filled with toys.

For a week, the child was very happy—except for one ritual. Every night the couple sat him in the bath and proudly gave him a scrubbing. Finally, the youngster could stand it no longer. Looking up at them through a face full of suds, he said: "You folks don't want a baby—you want a duck."

"We'll have you fixed up in no time, miss."

"And how do you like your new house?" the hostess asked a visiting couple.

"Well," said the husband reflectively, "we have very interesting neighbors—good-looking widows on both sides of us. Most unusual."

"Yes, and it could be even more unusual," his wife purred, "because if I catch you flirting with either of them, there will be three in a row."

—F. G. Kernan

The kids on the block were telling what they wanted to be when they grew up. "I want to be a lion tamer," said one. "I'd walk into the cage and . . ."

"Won't you be afraid to be alone in a cage with those ferocious animals?" his friend asked.

"Oh, I won't be alone," the other replied. "I'll have my mother with me."

been with us since they were five hours old. I took the daytime feedings, and my husband usually covered the night hours.

It takes almost two hours to feed the monkeys we now have, put them through the scientific tests, clean bottles and equipment, and change their diapers.

How did Bob and I become the proud guardians of this brood? The monkeys first came into our lives in the spring of 1960 when Bob and I attended a scientific conference in New York City. At one of the research laboratories concerned with adult monkey behavior, a cute baby rhesus monkey was born—but it was not useful in the lab's project. Bob had worked with infant monkeys for three years as a graduate student and had written his doctor's paper at the University of Wisconsin on visual learning problems of newborn monkeys. Now he decided to continue his research with the unwanted rhesus.

Dr. Zimmermann notes monkey's behavior.

The next thing I knew, we were on our way home with the baby monkey wrapped in a diaper. A month later, a second monkey was born in the same lab and off we went to New York again. We named the first Albert and the second Maya.

After Bob's research studies were completed in Wisconsin, certain questions had remained unanswered. Could infant monkeys be taught to discriminate between colors? At what age do they begin to see? When can they start learning?

These and other facets of his research could eventually have significance in understanding the visual development of human babies. Cornell provided the initial financial support for our first two charges. And early last year, as our tests with Albert and Maya proved successful, Bob was awarded a five-year research grant from the National Institutes of Health.

With these funds he bought pregnant female monkeys to establish a breeding colony at Cornell's psychology department laboratory. Then we adopted 13 more baby monkeys as they were born.

At first we all lived in a five-room apartment and turned over the dining room to our brood. Then we rented a seven-room house where Bob converted a large upstairs sitting room into a living area, a test area, and a playroom for the monkeys. In the latter, they can swing on a trapeze, ropes, and rings while we observe and study their behavior through a one-way window.

I found that each has a distinct personality. For instance, one is a comedian whom we call "The Sheik," because he has a funny way of wrapping his diaper around him like an Arab's cloak.

How has Stephanie reacted to all this research? I'm convinced that monkeys have been good for her. Because she knows I have responsibilities, Stephanie has become self-sufficient, learning to entertain herself while I am busy. Living with 15 "infants" has taught her that she cannot always be the center of attraction.

AS A PSYCHOLOGIST, Bob observes that Stephanie has never felt the common need for imaginary friends. She is too busy having monkeys as friends, and she proudly lets other girls and boys know about them. She talks to our monkeys in childish chatter, chastises them in phrases I use for her, and spanks them if they nip.

We had a share of tragedy along with the good fun when two of our monkeys died. One was born prematurely, and we were only able to keep him alive for 21 days, feeding him every hour. It was an ordeal for me. The second one inhaled some milk formula which penetrated to his lungs. Desperately, Bob and I gave him artificial respiration for six hours, but in vain. I believe what we went through had great value for Stephanie. She learned the meaning of death without the marked fears that generally accompany tragedy. Her reaction? She said to Bob, "Daddy, please hurry and bring another monkey home."

Our monkeys are extremely timid. When frightened, they all burst out in a chorus of screeches. If I calm Bernard down, the others usually follow; otherwise, if it goes on too long, I have to turn up our hi-fi.

ONCE, A TEACHER at Stephanie's nursery school asked me to bring along some of the monkeys. I brought Bernard and two others, but he was terrified and wouldn't permit himself to be cuddled by the children. He created such a scene that bedlam broke out. Next day I substituted "The Sheik" for him and our visit was a success. The children were fascinated by their thumb-sucking, their diapers, their fingers and toes.

Soon all of the baby monkeys will be going over to the Cornell lab for more advanced study. I'll miss them a great deal, almost as any mother would. But Bob assures me that there are at least three expectant monkeys at the lab. If we are lucky, we hope to "adopt" some new baby monkeys by the end of spring. Then I'll have another new "family" reaching out to me for comfort and affection.

With these funds he bought pregnant female monkeys to establish a breeding colony at Cornell's psychology department laboratory. Then we adopted 13 more baby monkeys as they were born.

At first we all lived in a five-room apartment and turned over the dining room to our brood. Then we rented a seven-room house where Bob converted a large upstairs sitting room into a living area, a test area, and a playroom for the monkeys. In the latter, they can swing on a trapeze, ropes, and rings while we observe and study their behavior through a one-way window.

I found that each has a distinct personality. For instance, one is a comedian whom we call "The Sheik," because he has a funny way of wrapping his diaper around him like an Arab's cloak.

How has Stephanie reacted to all this research? I'm convinced that monkeys have been good for her. Because she knows I have responsibilities, Stephanie has become self-sufficient, learning to entertain herself while I am busy. Living with 15 "infants" has taught her that she cannot always be the center of attraction.

AS A PSYCHOLOGIST, Bob observes that Stephanie has never felt the common need for imaginary friends. She is too busy having monkeys as friends, and she proudly lets other girls and boys know about them. She talks to our monkeys in childish chatter, chastises them in phrases I use for her, and spanks them if they nip.

We had a share of tragedy along with the good fun when two of our monkeys died. One was born prematurely, and we were only able to keep him alive for 21 days, feeding him every hour. It was an ordeal for me. The second one inhaled some milk formula which penetrated to his lungs. Desperately, Bob and I gave him artificial respiration for six hours, but in vain. I believe what we went through had great value for Stephanie. She learned the meaning of death without the marked fears that generally accompany tragedy. Her reaction? She said to Bob, "Daddy, please hurry and bring another monkey home."

Our monkeys are extremely timid. When frightened, they all burst out in a chorus of screeches. If I calm Bernard down, the others usually follow; otherwise, if it goes on too long, I have to turn up our hi-fi.

ONCE, A TEACHER at Stephanie's nursery school asked me to bring along some of the monkeys. I brought Bernard and two others, but he was terrified and wouldn't permit himself to be cuddled by the children. He created such a scene that bedlam broke out. Next day I substituted "The Sheik" for him and our visit was a success. The children were fascinated by their thumb-sucking, their diapers, their fingers and toes.

Soon all of the baby monkeys will be going over to the Cornell lab for more advanced study. I'll miss them a great deal, almost as any mother would. But Bob assures me that there are at least three expectant monkeys at the lab. If we are lucky, we hope to "adopt" some new baby monkeys by the end of spring. Then I'll have another new "family" reaching out to me for comfort and affection.

We Adopted 15 Monkeys

Research with simians has invaded the home — and this family put out the welcome mat

By MRS. MARGARET ZIMMERMANN
as told to Theodore Irwin

As a daily routine, Mrs. Zimmermann weighs each monkey on a baby scale.

HOW WOULD YOU like to be mother to a dozen or more infant monkeys—preparing special baby formulas, diapering, and doctoring these "children" when they come down with running noses or fevers?

This is what I have been doing for the past year and a half since my husband Bob (known in professional circles as Dr. Robert Zimmermann, assistant professor of psychology at Cornell University) and I took 15 monkeys into our home in Ithaca, N. Y., for research purposes. They have become a lively part of our family, along with our four-year-old daughter Stephanie and our dog Penelope.

I can't help having a warm maternal feeling for our simian foster children, especially when they cling in fright to "Mommy's" skirts during a storm or when a stranger appears. As their substitute mother, I sense that they look to me for comfort, and I feel the need to calm their many fears.

At the same time, I have to raise my daughter as a normal, healthy child. On occasion, having monkeys around presented a problem in family relationships. For instance, when we brought home our first two monkeys, Stephanie was 2½. Evidently she noticed that I was paying a good deal of attention to the newcomers, and she reacted much as if we had adopted two youngsters. Although Stephanie had been feeding herself, she suddenly wanted to go back to the bottle.

"Mommy, I want you to feed me!" she demanded. Happily, Stephanie soon outgrew her feelings of rivalry.

But with our nine-month-old basset hound, Penelope, it was a different matter. Penelope still goes wild when Stephanie plays with Bernard, one of the monkeys we permit to run loose at home. For mutual protection, we have to keep Penelope and Bernard apart. The monkey easily evades the dog, usually darting under a couch and then emerging to entice Penelope to chase him again. It's a riotous sight.

OF COURSE, we've had some rough times. Whenever Stephanie has a cold, my entire monkey nursery also breaks out in sniffles and coughs. Imagine handling 15 babies all with dripping noses!

And last May, when Stephanie came home with a case of measles, all the monkeys erupted in a rash and started scratching like mad. Luckily, they didn't run high temperatures, and I kept applying corn starch until the itching ceased.

So you see rearing simian babies isn't an easy task. They are not only extremely delicate but also hard to hold. They weigh only 13 to 20 ounces at birth and become acutely frightened if they are not given the proper support—held firmly on the tummy side. During the first week of life they must be fed every two hours on a 24-hour schedule, and about half of our babies have

I Thought I'd Lost

tells of losing a lifetime of mementos in the great Santa Monica Mountains fire

By JOE E. BROWN as told to Peer J. Oppenheimer

Joe stands in the rubble that once was his home.

Joe E. Brown is the beloved star of numerous film comedies, including "Burlesque," "Elmer the Great," "Alibi Ike," "The Daring Young Man," "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and "Show Boat." He started his career in a circus at 9, played professional baseball, went on to vaudeville, the theater, and the movies. He was voted one of the top money-making stars in the Motion Picture Fame Poll of 1932, 1935, and 1936.

MY MIND was almost a blank as I stared at the pile of rubble that had been my home the day before.

In vain I sifted through the ashes for my wife's jewels, her cherished first editions, the only copies I had left of my books, "Your Kids and Mine" and "Laughter Is a Wonderful Thing," my 175 awards, four gold footballs, a pennant ring from the Atlanta Baseball Club, the keys to 37 cities, a three-fourths-finished manuscript of a new book on sports, and countless other mementos I had accumulated over the years.

There's something so terribly personal and lonely about a fire, I thought to myself. Sure, the headlines in the Los Angeles newspapers of Nov. 7, 1961, had reported the loss of 485 homes in the great Santa Monica Mountains fire, including Burt Lancaster's, Zsa Zsa Gabor's, Joan Fontaine's, and mine. Friends had called to offer their help and condolences. But how do you replace your ties with the past—60 years in show business, 46 years of married life and fatherhood? Particularly when you're 70!

I felt crushed and lost. If there were only one link with the past, I told myself, it wouldn't be so hard to take. Just one. . .

How different were my reactions the first time I tasted disaster through fire—back in 1906.

I was just 14 and had gone to San Francisco as a $5-a-week member of an acrobatic team, "The Five Marvelous Ashtons." While booked at a downtown theater, the five of us shared two rooms at the Turcella, a run-down apartment hotel on Turk Street, two blocks from City Hall.

I Was Shaken Awake by a Rumble

Six o'clock one morning, I was shaken awake by a rumble. My reaction was typical of a 14-year-old: I knew I was experiencing an honest-to-goodness earthquake, and was thrilled. If anything, I hoped it would shake harder!

Our first concern was whether the theater would withstand the rumble. If it didn't, we were out of a job. While the two older members of our team rushed downtown to take a look, the rest of us went out for a 10-cent breakfast.

Only youth could have thought of its stomach

notes; then they closed in. When he had regained his composure, the man, Martin Crayle, a salesman for an Eastern firm, told how he happened to have the bills:

The day before, he had completed his calls in Chicago and gone to the railroad station to make reservations for his next stop. As he turned to leave the ticket window, he spied a package lying on the floor near one of the seats. He picked it up, found no identifying marks on it, and opened it.

IT CONTAINED fifty $100 bills. His first impulse was to turn it in, but he decided it would be better to advertise in one of the papers. He went to the newspaper office at once and wrote out the ad.

"Here it is," he said, and displayed a clip from that morning's paper:

> FOUND: Cash in package at Union Depot. Finder will return if owner describes currency, denominations, and total amount in package. Box C-151.

"I went to the newspaper office right after lunch," Crayle related, "but nobody had claimed the package. I have a weakness for betting on the horses, which I can't afford most of the time. I figured I was entitled to a reward of $800, so that's how much I took out to make my bets. Here's the package with the balance of the bills."

He reached in his pocket, removed a package wrapped in brown paper, and handed it to the agent. It contained 42 of the bogus bills. "I had no idea they were counterfeit," Crayle concluded.

Meanwhile, Crayle's credentials had been checked. He was, as he claimed, a salesman.

AFTER HE HAD HEARD the story personally, Chief Wilkie asked: "What time did you find this package at the station?"

"It was just six o'clock," Crayle replied.

Though his story had the ring of truth, he was held while Wilkie did more investigating. He sent wires to six cities, asking that replies be sent special delivery.

Then he went to the depot and talked to the ticket seller. He recalled it was about six o'clock when Crayle had made his reservation. After the conversation, Wilkie went to the newspaper office and picked up the ad Crayle had written.

The replies from the six cities came quickly. Wilkie took them to the salesman, who confessed that his story was a hoax, that he had peddled the counterfeit bills in the other cities. He was convicted and sentenced to 15 years in Federal prison.

Crayle's story was so plausible he might have been released had it not been for Chief Wilkie's investigation. His telegrams were to newspapers in other cities where bogus bills had appeared. In their replies, the papers sent copies of ads they had printed. In every city, the ads were identical and obviously had been inserted for protection in case Crayle was caught.

Chief Wilkie had once worked for The Chicago Tribune, so he knew that Crayle was lying when he said he had found the money at 6 p.m. and put an ad in the next morning's edition—because 5 p.m. was the deadline for advertising for the following day.

NOW... DEFENCIN: A NEW MORE EFFECTIVE ANSWER TO ARTHRITIS AND RHEUMATISM PAIN

New muscle-relaxing tablet works through the muscle fibres... gives more effective relief from pain of minor arthritis, rheumatism, body aches and stiffness in the 8 major areas of pain.

Today there has been a breakthrough against the pain and muscle stiffness of minor arthritis and rheumatism. Scientists have developed a new kind of medicine that you can take frequently, according to directions, for prolonged relief.

This medicine works by a new principle—through the muscle fibres themselves. It has been tested extensively on patients suffering from arthritis, rheumatism, body aches and stiffness in the 8 major areas of pain and has proved dramatically superior in bringing relief.

In case after case, pain and stiffness were relieved. Twice as many patients found relief, compared to those who took the most widely used pain tablets. Many patients found the new medicine acted faster, or relief lasted longer, or was more complete. They could reach, lift, walk, bend and move with greater ease and freedom.

This new medicine is DEFENCIN—a two-layer tablet with prescription-type ingredients—now available without prescription.

Arthritis and its chain of pain

The pain of arthritis or rheumatism is not a simple matter. It is like a chain with many links. Muscles, joints and nerves make up these links.

When muscles around the painful joint stiffen and "lock" they restrict joint movement. Every time we do move, it hurts. This pain, in turn, irritates nerves, making the pain still worse.

The key that unlocks the chain

Aspirin, common pain tablets and ordinary nonprescription "arthritis" pills are designed essentially to blunt pain. They act primarily in one way . . . give only part-way relief, do relatively little for muscles, joints or nerves. They don't have the key that unlocks the chain.

DEFENCIN does. It goes to work in minutes, right at the source of the trouble, relaxing tight, tense muscles that aggravate the pain of minor arthritis and rheumatism. DEFENCIN checks pain impulses as well as soothes nervous tension due to pain. It attacks pain and stiffness at its source, unlocks the chain of pain.

And, while there is no known cure for arthritis and rheumatism, you can take DEFENCIN frequently according to directions for continued relief of pain and stiffness.

Each DEFENCIN tablet contains:

(1) An exclusive muscle relaxant that quickly acts through the muscle fibres—relaxes muscle tension, loosens stiffness, reduces pain at the source, and helps restore movement.

(2) An effective pain reliever that eases pain from the affected joint areas for hours.

(3) A nerve calmative to relieve the nervous tension that accompanies and aggravates painful conditions.

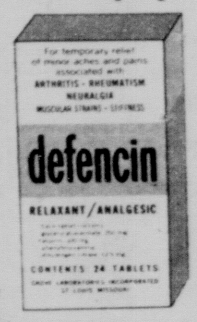

How DEFENCIN has helped others

People with body aches and stiffness in all 8 areas listed below—from arthritis and rheumatism to simple "Charlie Horse"—have taken DEFENCIN under the supervision of doctors in clinical tests.

The results of these tests bear repeating:

Compared to the most widely used pain tablets, DEFENCIN helped twice as many of these people. For many it acted faster, or relief lasted longer, or was more complete. In most cases, people found they could move, walk, stoop, bend with greater freedom. In some cases, all symptoms were completely relieved.

WHICH OF THESE MUSCLE OR JOINT PAINS DO YOU HAVE?

Arthritis, rheumatism and related pains can strike anywhere in your body . . . most often causing painful conditions listed below. New DEFENCIN can relieve pain and stiffness in any of these areas.

1. Stiff back—pain in muscles especially in the small of the back. Overexertion can cause stiffness here.

2. Stiff shoulder—pain in muscles that raise and lower the arm.

3. Stiff neck—pain in muscles that bend and turn the head.

5. Sore hip—pain in muscles of hip often extends down back of thigh.

6. Stiff knee—pain in these muscles may keep whole leg stiff.

7. Stiff wrist—pain in muscles that move the wrist and hand. These muscle areas are quite susceptible to rheumatism.

8. Cramped leg—pain in the leg muscles. When they stiffen, it hurts to move your ankle.

The key that unlocks the chain

Aspirin, common pain tablets and ordinary nonprescription "arthritis" pills are designed essentially to blunt pain. They act primarily in one way . . . give only part-way relief, do relatively little for muscles, joints or nerves. They don't have the key that unlocks the chain.

DEFENCIN does. It goes to work in minutes, right at the source of the trouble, relaxing tight, tense muscles that aggravate the pain of minor arthritis and rheumatism. DEFENCIN checks pain impulses as well as soothes nervous tension due to pain. It attacks pain and stiffness at its source, unlocks the chain of pain.

And, while there is no known cure for arthritis and rheumatism, you can take DEFENCIN frequently according to directions for continued relief of pain and stiffness.

A unique new three-action formula

Each DEFENCIN tablet contains:

(1) An exclusive muscle relaxant that quickly acts through the muscle fibres—relaxes muscle tension, loosens stiffness, reduces pain at the source, and helps restore movement.

(2) An effective pain reliever that eases pain from the affected joint areas for hours.

(3) A nerve calmative to relieve the nervous tension that accompanies and aggravates painful conditions.

How DEFENCIN has helped others

People with body aches and stiffness in all 8 areas listed below—from arthritis and rheumatism to simple "Charlie Horse"—have taken DEFENCIN under the supervision of doctors in clinical tests.

The results of these tests bear repeating:

Compared to the most widely used pain tablets, DEFENCIN helped twice as many of these people. For many it acted faster, or relief lasted longer, or was more complete. In most cases, people found they could move, walk, stoop, bend with greater freedom. In some cases, all symptoms were completely relieved.

WHICH OF THESE MUSCLE OR JOINT PAINS DO YOU HAVE?

Arthritis, rheumatism and related pains can strike anywhere in your body . . . most often causing painful conditions listed below. New DEFENCIN can relieve pain and stiffness in any of these areas.

1. Stiff back—pain in muscles especially in the small of the back. Overexertion can cause stiffness here.

2. Stiff shoulder—pain in muscles that raise and lower the arm.

3. Stiff neck—pain in muscles that bend and turn the head.

4. Sore elbow—pain in muscles around the joint that flex the arm. Arthritis often attacks here.

5. Sore hip—pain in muscles of hip often extends down back of thigh.

6. Stiff knee—pain in these muscles may keep whole leg stiff.

7. Stiff wrist—pain in muscles that move the wrist and hand. These muscle areas are quite susceptible to rheumatism.

8. Cramped leg—pain in the leg muscles. When they stiffen, it hurts to move your ankle.

Everything

at a terrifying time like that!

Since we didn't see much actual damage, we didn't get very excited—till the others returned with the news that the theater was nothing but a pile of used brick.

Turk Street ran into Market Street, and down on Market was the biggest department store in San Francisco. It was there the fire started.

We didn't become conscious of the danger until the entire department store was engulfed by flames. Then the five of us grabbed our one trunk, filled mostly with wardrobe clothes for our act, and started pushing it up the street. We beat the fire by about one block most of the way to the Golden Gate Park.

I stayed in San Francisco until the morning of the third day, sleeping in the park, enjoying every minute of it. I had the feeling the whole thing had been staged for my benefit!

How different my reaction after the Santa Monica fire! No feeling that it had been a spectacular free show!

That story started for me at nine o'clock Monday morning with a phone call from my daughter, who lives in the hills above Sherman Oaks. I could detect a nervous edge to her voice. "Daddy—I'm worried about the fire . . ."

"What fire?" I asked.

"All the hills around us seem to be in flames!" she burst out. This was the first indication I had had of the worst fire disaster ever to hit Southern California.

"Hold on a moment," I told her and walked over to the kitchen window to take a look for myself. About 100 yards past our house is a big hill, and behind it I could see smoke billowing into the sky. Still, I felt no alarm. It was miles away, about halfway between my daughter's home and mine. When I picked up the receiver again, I assured her there was nothing to worry about. "It's a long way off. You'll be all right."

Her voice broke. "It's not me I'm worried about; it's you who might be in danger!"

I Thought It Couldn't Happen

The idea of a fire racing ten miles across a fairly heavily populated, if mountainous, area seemed preposterous. And if it should get any closer, undoubtedly the police or fire department would warn us.

But nobody did. And three hours later, my house went up in flames!

My daughter's second call came 45 minutes later. "Dad—it's getting closer. You better get ready to evacuate!"

Unable to ignore her obvious fear, I once again went to the window and was startled to see how dark the sky had become with blue, black, and gray smoke swirling overhead. But I just couldn't convince myself that the fire was a possible threat.

When the phone rang an hour and a half later, I didn't need to know who was calling, or why. I could see the flames spitting into the sky, only three miles away.

"Let's throw some things in the car and get the pets in case we have to get out of here," I told my wife.

Still unperturbed, my wife began packing her jewelry and other valuables, slowly and methodically, into a carpetbag, then started looking for our two dogs and cat. Meanwhile, I kept glancing out of the door, growing increasingly worried as the flames reached higher and ashes began falling in the yard. And then I heard myself screaming at my wife to hurry up, while I rushed out and put three suits and four coats into the car—why, I don't know, for in my list of values clothes rank way down the line.

She yelled right back not to worry, that she'd be packed shortly. But to me, everything seemed to be done in slow motion, and as I grew more anxious to move and she more determined to save her valuables, we got into a first-class argument, while the flames gobbled up one foot after another, closer and closer!

By the time I opened the front door to head for the car, the flames had raced to our property line, and hot embers were showering down all around me. I was sure now we'd be lucky to escape with our lives.

Case of the Elusive Counterfeiter

By WILLIAM T. BRANNON

THE COUNTERFEIT $100 bills were in circulation in half a dozen large cities by the time the case came to the attention of Chief John E. Wilkie of the U.S. Secret Service.

Painstaking investigation showed that the bogus bills had first appeared at race tracks in the six cities. Chief Wilkie stationed agents at every track in the country, and men at the betting windows signaled the agents every time a $100 bill was offered. All were good.

Weeks passed, and it appeared the counterfeiting gang knew the Federal men were on their trail. No more of the bogus bills appeared.

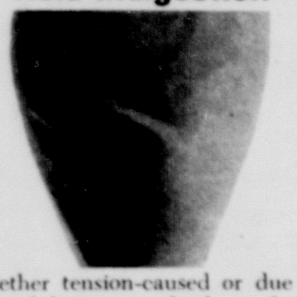

But Chief Wilkie knew that counterfeiters never give up. Finally, at a track near Chicago, one of the fake $100 notes was handed in at a betting window. The man who had presented it was middle-aged, paunchy, conservatively dressed.

The agents kept an eye on him as he bet a total of eight of the counterfeit

I Thought I'd Lost Everything

I tore back into the house, desperately shouting for my wife to drop everything and get into the car. We barely had time to drag our terrified dogs into our sedan, before the first tongue of flame lapped at our house. The cat had disappeared. She didn't return till two days later, yowling angrily for having been left behind!

When my wife turned to look back, she saw our house begin to burn. She was too choked with tears, too stunned to say anything. I was too concerned about the immediate task of escaping this inferno to worry about material things. A few minutes later we reached the safety of a friend's house, about six blocks away.

Once my wife was out of danger, I decided to make an attempt to get back to the house to save at least the jewels she had so carefully packed.

A Priceless Sentimental Value

They meant a great deal to her, not just because they were valuable and not insured—in fact, nothing was insured except the house itself—but because of the sentimental value attached to almost every piece she owned, like the brooch I had given her for our last anniversary, or the diamond ring I'd selected for her birthday.

By then, the whole area had been sealed off by the police and fire departments. I finally managed to get back by hailing down a motorcycle officer and talking him into giving me a lift.

Joe and neighbor Jack Linkletter, whose house was saved from the fire, examine the sad remains.

When I stood before our place, I felt icy cold in spite of the intense heat about me. There was nothing standing but one crumbling wall—the front wall with two windows that had been part of Mrs. Brown's bedroom.

"Her jewelry is in the carpetbag on the dresser," I heard myself shouting.

Another policeman who was at the scene hurriedly grabbed his billy club and smashed the window. It did no good. Flames spit straight at him, making him retreat.

"There's nothing we can do," he shouted into my ear. "Let's get out of here!"

A day later I was back, looking, hoping for some memento of the past, like the manuscript which was three-fourths finished—a philosophical account of sports all over the world, with emphasis on how living by the rules enables people to handle themselves in any situation. So much work had gone down the drain, I told myself, I'd never want to start again.

I knew I was defeating the very principle I had in mind when I started the book—to live by the rules. And there's no rule in any sport that allows you to quit just because the chips are down. So what reason did I have to throw in the towel because I'd lost a year's work, my home, or because I was 70?

The Greatest Loss of All

Yet all my philosophizing couldn't console me for the loss of every physical possession that referred to my son Don, an Air Force pilot killed during World War II. There wasn't a letter, a picture, an award to remind me of him.

As I walked back to my car, my foot hit a solid object. I bent down to scoop away the ashes and saw a familiar case, which I opened with trembling hands. Inside I found an object of very special meaning to me—the sword from the Air Force dress uniform of my son. It was still intact, though scorched.

Obviously, not everything was lost. In fact, as I drove down the hill to tell my wife, I knew that this sword would give me the strength to pick up where I'd left off. I've decided to hang it over my writing desk when I start once again to put down my thoughts about sports and living by the rules and never giving up, no matter what.

WHEN SOMEONE'S COUNTING ON YOU . . . YOU CAN COUNT ON LIFE INSURANCE

But Do You Understand WHAT God Told Us?

Almost everybody believes there is a God. But there is a big difference of opinion as to what God is like . . . what we should believe about Him . . . and what we must do to attain everlasting life with Him.

The idea of some people seems to be that knowledge of God is vague and uncertain . . . and that each individual can therefore establish his own creed. This ignores entirely the fact that there are certain revealed truths about our Creator which are not subject to personal opinion, and from which we cannot pick and choose as true or untrue.

The Apostles' Creed, for instance, is not merely a pious prayer. It is not just an idealistic declaration, based on conjecture and guesswork. It is a summary of truths revealed to us by God Himself. It is not something which we are free to believe only in part, for to do so is to set our own opinion and will against the specific command and will of God.

This, obviously, is not the intention of people who believe in God and wish to please and serve Him. It is due usually to the fact that many sincere people . . . while familiar with the words of the Apostles' Creed . . . do not understand its full meaning and tremendous significance.

As far as Catholics are concerned the Apostles' Creed sums up our attitude toward God and our religion. We believe, as the Creed says, not only in God, the Father Almighty, but "in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary..." We believe that Christ died for our redemption . . . that He arose from the dead . . . that "He shall come to judge the living and the dead." We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Holy Catholic Church, the communion of Saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting.

We believe these things because God told us so. And because we believe them, our faith . . . and our hope for everlasting life with God . . . are founded not merely upon a vague and general belief, but upon absolute certainty. As we see it, the words "I believe" in the Apostles' Creed might just as well be "I know!"

If you want a clearer and better understanding of the revealed truths contained in the Apostles' Creed . . . and their importance to your own spiritual life . . . write today for our interesting pamphlet which we will send you free in a plain wrapper. And nobody will call on you. Just ask for Pamphlet No. FM-30.

Pecan Pralines

TO PREPARE AND COOK: 30 MIN.

2. Increase heat and cook rapidly without stirring until mixture reaches 230°F or thread stage (sirup spins 2-in. thread when allowed to drop from spoon). During cooking wash any sugar crystals from sides of pan with pastry brush dipped in water. When mixture reaches 230°F, stir in butter and pecan halves.
3. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally, until the sirup reaches 236°F or soft-ball stage (sirup forms a soft ball in very cold water; it flattens when removed from water). Remove thermometer; cool 2 to 3 min. without stirring.
4. Add vanilla extract. Gently stir sirup for about 2 min., or until it becomes slightly thicker and pecans appear well coated with the sirup. Quickly drop by tablespoonfuls onto aluminum foil or greased waxed paper. (The candy will flatten.) Allow to stand until cool.
5. When completely cool, wrap each praline in moisture-vapor-proof material. Store in a covered container in a cool dry place. About 1½ doz. pralines

But Do You Understand WHAT God Told Us?

Almost everybody believes there is a God. But there is a big difference of opinion as to what God is like . . . what we should believe about Him . . . and what we must do to attain everlasting life with Him.

The idea of some people seems to be that knowledge of God is vague and uncertain . . . and that each individual can therefore establish his own creed. This ignores entirely the fact that there are certain revealed truths about our Creator which are not subject to personal opinion, and from which we cannot pick and choose as true or untrue.

The Apostles' Creed, for instance, is not merely a pious prayer. It is not just an idealistic declaration, based on conjecture and guesswork. It is a summary of truths revealed to us by God Himself. It is not something which we are free to believe only in part, for to do so is to set our own opinion and will against the specific command and will of God.

This, obviously, is not the intention of people who believe in God and wish to please and serve Him. It is due usually to the fact that many sincere people . . . while familiar with the words of the Apostles' Creed . . . do not understand its full meaning and tremendous significance.

As far as Catholics are concerned the Apostles' Creed sums up our attitude toward God and our religion. We believe, as the Creed says, not only in God, the Father Almighty, but "in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary..." We believe that Christ died for our redemption . . . that He arose from the dead . . . that "He shall come to judge the living and the dead." We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Holy Catholic Church, the communion of Saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting.

We believe these things because God told us so. And because we believe them, our faith . . . and our hope for everlasting life with God . . . are founded not merely upon a vague and general belief, but upon absolute certainty. As we see it, the words "I believe" in the Apostles' Creed might just as well be "I know!"

If you want a clearer and better understanding of the revealed truths contained in the Apostles' Creed . . . and their importance to your own spiritual life . . . write today for our interesting pamphlet which we will send you free in a plain wrapper. And nobody will call on you. Just ask for Pamphlet No. FM-30.
